Circus here yesterday. Met a fellow who didn't go, but he had the best time in his life knowing that he had two little fellows there, who didn't have a Chinaman's chance of seeing it until he got a couple of tickets to 'em. Remember away back when you yearned to see a circus, clowns, elephants and tightwire walker? Couldn't get in for the same reason those two little kiddies couldn't get in. My friend who gave those two tickets away said he never enjoyed a circus as much in all his life.

Talking about circuses. They usually start a flood of reminiscences. Walt Collins remembers about a circus, and his first one, which exhibited in Santa Ana. And did he want to go? He did. Walt loafed around the grounds and finally generated enough courage to ask one of the employees what he could do to get into the show. The fellow said he didn't know, but he suggested that if a number of pumpkins on a nearby lot was transferred to the circus grounds there might be a good chance to see the circus. The transfer took place and Walt has been wondering ever since if the pumpkins belonged to the circus or a gardener.

And then I met a lot of fellows who thought all circuses should give a parade, and so do I. Kiddies get a lot of joy out of a parade, and as a publicity stunt I think it's good advertising. And the fellow who runs the circus thinks it isn't so that's the reason we do not have parades. Anyway, it has just occurred to my sluggish motive power, that I don't own a circus.

Never knew before a butcher had to be a tailor. Saw one sewing up a piece of meat. Did a neat job of it, too. When he got through with it he called it a prime rib roll.

Ben Baker buys some garden seed and says one is going to put in a garden. Rather indefinite, but I have my suspicion.

And then there was the fellow who was on a committee who found out that the committee had held a meeting and decided on certain individuals for office and wanted to know if it was all right with him. So what?

Encountered Otto Knoche Tuesday. He wanted to trade two bags of beans for two circus tickets, and I was willing to trade, only Otto had the beans, and I didn't have the circus tickets.

The unreasonable expectation on the part of many motorists who visit gasoline stations reminds me of the man who took his lunch to a swanky hotel and yesterday a cup of coffee, then complained because there wasn't any music.

Well, anyway, county taxes will not plague us until next December. But you better be ready then. In the meantime other taxes will become due as regularly and certainly as you open your place of business. Boy, old Caesar, or someone, started something when he introduced the tax system. And it grows, irrespective of climatic or business conditions.

Santa Ana comes home from Los Angeles with the story that business is so bad "Snow White" has laid off two dwarfs.

Milan Miller wanted me to go to the circus grounds yesterday to interview the clowns, and when I asked him why go that far he got (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Women Vs. Clothing

Which has precedence, the woman or the clothes? That's a question which has had every woman puzzled at times.

Women will be interested in Mary Hampton's discussion of the problem on Page 10 today. There are also some valuable hints on how to dress and look better.

CHINA-JAPS RUSH TROOPS

Both Sides Gather Forces for Victory

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Chinese and Japanese high commands rushed heavy reinforcements of all available planes, tanks and artillery into the 100-mile triangle bounded by Yenchow, Suchow and Lini today in a desperate effort to tilt decisively the seesawing scales of battle north of the Grand canal.

Offsetting Chinese victories in the past 10 days, Japanese recaptured Taining and Lincheng, key-points on the Tientsin-Pukow railway system down which Japanese have been endeavoring for three months to march to Suchow.

Chinese claimed to have beaten off Japanese attacks at Tai-chung and Yihshien, southern points on a feeder line of the Tientsin-Pukow railroad. The Japanese supply situation steadily was growing worse, Chinese said, as a result of constant guerrilla attacks throughout Shan-si province to the west. Chinese said they cut communications lines in three places there yesterday and killed 500 Japanese.

FRANCO JUMPS INTO COMMAND

HENDAYE, France. (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco today assumed personal command of his insurgent armies closing in on Lerida, key to the government capital, Barcelona, 80 miles to the east.

With his main body reported at the outskirts of the city on the highway from Fraga, the insurgent chief, Generalissimo, moved forward in sweeping movements designed to encircle Lerida, all but deserted by its civilian population. Insurgent reports said huge smoke clouds darkened the environs of the besieged city.

HEARING WAVED IN MORALS CASE

H. L. Donaker, 35-year-old Orange furniture repairman, waived preliminary hearing today on charges of a morals offense against a 10-year-old Orange boy. He will be arraigned in superior court Friday.

Donaker was arrested by R. H. Sandon, district attorney's investigator, and Police Chief George Franzen of Orange, who said Donaker admitted the offense against the boy. He is being held in lieu of $5000 bail.

Woman, No. 1 Juror, Gets Easter Bunny

Mrs. Margaret Colvin of Huntington Beach, No. 1 juror in the N. E. West oyster trial, was referred to as a "guinea pig" by The Journal Monday when she was asked all prosecution and defense questions. Fellow jurors chuckled.

Mrs. Colvin said she'd rather be an Easter bunny, or something.

Today other jurors presented her with a small, gilt Easter bunny. She beamed.

50 PERSONS HURT; MANY CHILDREN

Four Killed in Other Parts as Twister Hits

COLUMBUS, Kans. (AP)—A tornado tore through this town of 3500 near noon today, twisting apart a school and 30 other buildings and injuring an estimated 50 persons, many of them children. The slashing storm was one of a series which ripped into Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

Three were reported killed in Boone county, Missouri. A woman was killed at Republic, Ark.

Thirty school pupils barely escaped injury near Chetopa, Kans. Residences were damaged at Ramona, Okla.

But of all Columbus, nestled in extreme southeastern Kansas, fringed by Oklahoma and Missouri in the tri-state lead and coal mining area, was hardest hit.

The storm lashed from eight to 10 city blocks in Columbus. Swirling out of the southwest with tornado winds, rain and hail (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

FIVE FLIERS FEARED DEAD

HONOLULU. (AP)—Five navy fliers were missing today and feared dead in the crash of a big patrol bombing plane off Waianae, on the island of Oahu. A sixth man, unconscious, was brought to a hospital, and another reached shore safely.

Returning to the naval base through a heavy rainstorm, after participating in scouting maneuvers, the twin-engine flying boat struck the sea and was partially submerged.

Seven men were aboard. One, G. J. Niles, radioman third class, swam ashore, and notified the commandant's office.

Later, H. F. Bartz, aviation machinist's mate first class, was washed ashore unconscious. He was removed to the Waianae hospital.

URUGUAY FOILS REBEL PLOT

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay. (AP)—Authorities today said they had frustrated a military plot to seize power for Dr. Eduardo Blanco Acevedo, defeated candidate in Sunday's presidential elections. Four army colonels and the Montevideo chief of police were arrested and dismissed from their posts as the chief conspirators.

Officials said the alleged plotters planned to arrest Gabriel Terra, retiring president, and President-elect Gen. Alfredo Baldomir and place Dr. Blanco Acevedo in power.

U. S. Maintains Price of Silver

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury made no change today in its price of 42 cents per ounce for foreign silver. On each of the two previous days, the treasury has reduced its price 1 cent, after maintaining a price of 45 cents an ounce for more than two years.

No changes were made in the form of the four house bills. Gifford left the committee meeting was 7 to 2. The only Republicans on the committee, Representative Taber (R., N. Y.) and Gifford (R., Mass.) formed the minority.

Taber asked for public hearings on the legislation, he said, but was turned down on another party vote. Cochran said the house would be asked to meet at 11 a. m., (EST) tomorrow—an hour earlier than usual—to start work on the measure.

'Conscience' Thief Returns Wedding Ring and Diamond

Either the thief who entered Mrs. Howard Gilmore's home in Orange Sunday didn't need a wedding ring, or his conscience attacked him for the theft, because the ring was returned to its owner by mail yesterday, Mrs. Gilmore reported to Orange police.

Also returned was a diamond ring valued at $50. Mrs. Gilmore's husband received a mysterious telephone call Monday, when a woman told him not to worry about the rings, he told police.

The police, however, are still worrying.

STATE ASKS FLOOD DATA

Indications that the state is considering favorably Orange county's request for $500,000 to repair its flood-damaged levees were seen today when State Engineer Edward Hyatt requested complete engineering data on how the county expects to spend the money.

There was no commitment as to whether the state would grant the county's requests for funds from the $5,000,000 sum appropriated by the special session of the legislature, but the word from Hyatt was taken as an indication the state is looking favorably on Orange county's request for aid.

The state money would be pooled with a labor allocation to be requested from WPA if the state furnishes the credit necessary to underwrite Orange county's proposed WPA application for $1,696,000 worth of work on the levee.

'Didn't Like Way He Talked'—Shot

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Robert Davis, 42, a World war veteran, was in a hospital today in critical condition with a bullet wound in his stomach because his assailant "didn't like the way he talked" to him.

Officers H. N. Smith and V. C. Walsh, who with Municipal Judge Le Roy Dawson arrested Harry N. Smith, quoted the man as saying he shot Davis.

Both supporters and foes of the administration's broad program agreed the house struggle would be as intense as that in the senate. The thousands of telegraphic protests which senators had received were being duplicated in the other chamber.

Although two of the house reorganization bills were passed last summer, members will have to reconsider their provisions when the omnibus measure comes up. The two would have authorized the appointment of six presidential assistants and would have empowered the President to merge and rearrange federal agencies during the next two years.

The senate and house reorganization programs differ most widely in their treatment of the general accounting office. The senate bill would place its functions in the budget bureau. The house bill would retain the office of comptroller general.

Both measures would create a new auditor general who would review administration expenditures and report to congress.

WOOD UNDER FIRE FROM ATTORNEYS

Lawyers Assail Bribe Testimony

Two men who say they were solicited for $1200 by Supervisor N. E. West took the stand today in West's superior court ouster trial, and were questioned sharply by defense counsel as the state's case neared a close. E. K. Wood, Riverside and A. H. Fanning, Laguna Beach told a jury of eight women and four men that West asked $200 and $1000, respectively, for his part in hastening liquidation of the delinquent Broadway improvement district in Laguna.

West is charged with two specifications of "wilful and corrupt misconduct in office." Judge L. N. Turrentine of San Diego is presiding.

Fanning, elderly former Broadway property owner, said West told him "he was in a position" to save Fanning and his partner $500 on their share of a contribution toward paying off delinquent bonds, and "he wanted us to pay him $1000."

WOOD CROSS-EXAMINED

Wood was cross-examined further by Edgar Hervey, of San Diego, loquacious attorney associated in West's defense with B. Z. McKinney of Santa Ana. He said West "followed me around like a shadow" demanding the $200, and added he paid him $140 in currency. Under redirect examination by Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner he explained that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

COUNTY GETS HALF MILLION

Almost half a million dollars was available today for storm damage repair to highways and bridges in Orange county, the state department of public works announced in Sacramento.

Funds totaling $430,000 will be used here, the Associated Press reported. The highway commission drew on gasoline tax funds made available by delay of work on 25 state highway projects ordered held up March 18.

Projects are:

Galivan overhead and San Juan creek bridge, extend overhead and replace bridge, $60,000.

Santa Ana canyon, restoration and protection, $100,000.

Santa Ana overflow channel, bridge at Newport Beach, repair and replacements, $50,000.

San Juan creek bridge, restoration, $55,000.

Santa Ana river bridge replacements, $120,000.

Restoration of approaches, $28,000.

Restoration of roadway and bridge on Bolsa avenue, $17,000.

CHICAGO. (AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein, spokesman for the American Medical association announced today six persons had died in Orlando, Fla., in the last 24 hours from the effects of a drug offered as a cancer "cure."

Two other persons were critically ill, said Fishbein, editor of the association's journal. Symptoms were similar to those of lockjaw, he said.

Both supporters and foes of the administration's broad program agreed the house struggle would be as intense as that in the senate. The thousands of telegraphic protests which senators had received were being duplicated in the other chamber.

Although two of the house reorganization bills were passed last summer, members will have to reconsider their provisions when the omnibus measure comes up. The two would have authorized the appointment of six presidential assistants and would have empowered the President to merge and rearrange federal agencies during the next two years.

Unions Protest Building Work By MOD Hands

The International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers of America, an AFL affiliate, delayed construction yesterday on the new $100,000 Cal Juice plant in Anaheim, by demands that union laborers be hired in place of farm-ers in erection of the building. An AFL steel workers union in Los Angeles is said to have stopped shipment of necessary construction steel to the MOD plant yesterday after the Los Angeles union agreed to cooperate with the Orange county laborers' group.

FRANCE ASKS FOR KINGDOM

Blum Plans to Close Stock Exchange, or Else

PARIS. (AP)—Premier Leon Blum planned today temporarily to close France's stock exchange, the Bourse, unless his new program for financial reconstruction is adopted over the week-end.

The premier emphasized to a delegation of radical-socialist deputies yesterday the new finance bills, which he is expected to introduce in parliament after the closing of the Bourse Friday, must be passed before Monday. Otherwise he was prepared to keep the Bourse closed to prevent excessive speculation.

He told the deputies trading would be stopped during protracted debate or until a solution could be found to the cabinet crisis that might result from rejection of his proposals. Details of the bills were kept secret.

Large yellow posters appeared on billboards throughout Paris appealing for re-establishment of the monarchy to restore France's internal stability and international prestige.

They bore the name of Henri, Count of Paris, son of the Duke of Guise, pretender to the French throne.

Floods Cause State $7,127,950 Loss

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The weather bureau estimated today that losses from the December floods in California aggregated $7,127,950.

Not included in this estimate were losses from storm damages, such as from wind, earth slides and erosion in the mountains.

The bureau said property valued at $2,226,500 was saved by flood warnings.

E. L. Hackley, president of the MOD unit at Anaheim, said this morning that work was progressing steadily on the plant today and that a supply of steel is expected to arrive shortly. At present activities are confined largely to pouring cement.

Hackley reported that members of the cooperative are doing the construction work on the building and hope to have the plant in operation by June 15.

It is the use of MOD member labor which has caused the dispute, federation men said. They contend that it will cost more money to erect the building by employing non-union members. They charge the Associated Farmers is behind the move aimed at "chiseling on what is rightly the laboring man's job."

"I should add," Lord said, that the building belongs to members of the cooperative and that it is their privilege to use the labor of its members.

There are approximately 300 members of the local hod carriers' and common laborers' group in the county.

LONDON FINDS NEW SABOTAGE

LONDON. (AP)—A new outbreak of sabotage against airplanes made for the royal air force was disclosed today at the house of commons. Four cases were divulged Monday.

Earl Winterton, undersecretary for air, reported two new cases of cut wires on planes due for delivery to the R. A. F.

"I should add," Lord Winterton said, "that there is no evidence to suggest the malicious damage is to be attributed to any agent of a foreign power."

The house was told Monday of cut electric cables on four high-speed bombers at the Fairey Aviation company's Stockport factory.

BUTCHER GETS FIFTY YEARS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Lloyd Treadwell, 35, San Diego butcher, was under sentence today to serve one to 50 years in prison for having brutally slashed and attacked Bunita St. Dennis, 23, "singing waitress," who hitch hiked here from Syracuse, N. Y.

Clad only in torn hiking trousers and a pair of boots, the girl was found unconscious with Treadwell in his automobile near Altadena last January. She had 16 knife cuts on her head and her body was covered with bruises.

Rented The Second Day . . .

Mrs. C. M. Rodda, 115 East 10th St., wanted to rent two apartments, so she ordered this little five-line ad in The Journal for three days. The two apartments were rented the second day.

Mrs. Rodda says she was very much pleased with the results. There were three people who called after the apartments were rented.

AIRCRAFT CARRIER LEFT IDLE BY EPIDEMIC IN WAR GAMES

By Air Raiders in Navy's Maneuvers

HONOLULU, (AP)—Hawaii's second city theoretically was left in ruins by air raiders and the giant aircraft carrier Lexington actually was left idle by a tonsillitis epidemic in the United States navy's greatest mid-Pacific war games. A surprise attack yesterday by 26 planes from the invading "blue" fleet left nothing but theoretical ruins in Hilo, city of 20,000 population on Hawaii island, 200 miles southward.

Henri's posters declared the republic won the world war but "is losing the peace"—echoing the growing popular opinion that Germany is reversing the verdict of the Versailles treaty.

Europe, the posters warned, is on the brink of war and France lacks a united government because of political differences.

"Only the monarchy can unite the French people and save the country in its present grave danger," they said.

Automobile Burned In Mystery Fire

Mysterious burning of a car in Santa Ana canyon shortly after it was reported stolen puzzled highway patrolmen and police today as they awaited word from Sacramento giving them data on the car.

The car—a 1937 model sedan—was reported stolen at 10:25 p. m. last night, and found, partly demolished by flames, early this morning. A. W. Ames, Olive garage man asked to search for the car, discovered it in the Bixby ranch driveway three miles north-east of Olive.

Claims for Dairy Barn Labor Filed

Based on construction of a dairy barn, milk room, feed room and cow stanchions last year, a suit filed in superior court today asked for closure of three material and labor claims against the property of M. Damasco, dairyman.

The building firm of Littlefield and Bilcott is asking $1808.93. A. R. Gamble asks $319 for the cow stanchions, and J. R. James asks $90 for plumbing work.

WOOD UNDER TRIAL FIRE

his testimony before the grand jury was handicapped by absence of records, which he had with him at this week's trial.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton called Frank Andrews, former escrow officer for the Orange County Title company, to explain details of West's sale of property owned by Wood last year, following liquidation of the district in 1936.

JUST COMMISSION
Defense attorneys contend West's demand for $200, if any, was for a real estate commission on that sale and had no relation to his acts as a supervisor.

Fanning took the stand at 11:20 a. m. and was being cross-examined by Hervey at noon recess.

He admitted West did not mention the board of supervisors, but said he was "in a position" to save Fanning and his partner $5000.

Menton tangled verbally with Hervey as the latter attempted to read the grand jury transcript before showing it to Fanning.

Hervey referred twice to West as "Mr. Wood" in questioning Fanning. Corrected by his associate, McKinney, Hervey wheeled, bowed, looked past Wood and said:

"Excuse me, Mr. West."

Menton's motion to strike from the record testimony and papers about Wood's payments for services in closing the district, made "to save considerable time," was denied by Judge Turrentine, who said it was "partly relevant."

Wood's story that West solicited $200 from him was unfolded at yesterday afternoon's court session.

"Mr. West said to me," Wood testified, "that he was tired and wanted a vacation. I asked him why he didn't take one. He told me he couldn't afford it. He said he would make a considerable sum when the escrow was closed, and could I not see my way clear to pay him the sum of $200, preferably to make a trip back to the Harvard anniversary... he insisted."

Finally, Wood said on cross-examination, he paid him $140 "to get rid of him."

"Why didn't you pay him $200?" snapped Hervey.

"Well," grinned the witness, "to be frank with you, I wanted to see the reaction when I put the other $60 back in my pocket." Spectators laughed audibly.

"And what was the reaction?" asked Hervey.

"Well," chuckled Wood, "the next morning he came down to the beach after the other $60." (More laughter.)

Hervey several times snatched notes from Wood and demanded that they be introduced as evidence, since he had referred to them. He and Menton clashed frequently, and Hervey once was reminded by the court for addressing himself to the district attorney instead of the judge.

Portions of Wood's testimony before the grand jury were read into the record by McKinney and Hervey on cross-examination.

Wood testified his gain on the liquidation was $217.62 in cash, $2275 in unsecured notes and two pieces of property worth $100.

His payment of $140 to West, the witness said, came after the supervisor had sold a piece of property for Wood. Defense questions concerned the agreed sale price of the property, and Hervey asked Wood if the $140 was not, in fact, part of a regular commission. Wood said it was not.

He denied having talked with George Thompson and Fred Chapman, grand jurors, before he testified before the inquirers.

Ickes Says Floods Caused $50,000,000 Damage Over State

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Ickes ordered interior department engineers today to cooperate with the war department in a "comprehensive study" of flood conditions in Southern California. Results of the survey, Ickes said, would be used as a basis "for future flood control work as well as for ordinary requirements of engineering and building federal projects in the state."

The secretary said California floods had caused $50,000,000 property damage this year as well as claiming many lives.

The reclamation bureau, he said, would contribute approximately

U. S. Ruled Owner Of Rich Elk Hills Oil Field

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The general land office ruled today that the federal government and not private oil companies was the rightful owner of millions of dollars of oil lands in the famed Elk Hills naval reserve in California.

These lands, indirectly associated with the Teapot Dome oil scandal, were claimed by the State of California, the General Petroleum Company of California, Thomas A. O'Donnell, Homer I. Tupman and the Potter Oil company, all of whom have 36 days in which to file appeals to Secretary of Interior Ickes.

LABOR REVOLT, U. S. PROTEST, BOTH MEXICO'S EXECUTIVE

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—President Cardenas, summoning an "urgent" session of congress to help him, was confronted today with near-revolt by a segment of labor, and a vigorous United States protest against expropriation of the $400,000,000 oil industry. The American protest was presented to the foreign ministry yesterday by Ambassador Josephus Daniels, and a high Mexican official indicated it was an energetic note demanding explanation how Mexico intended to pay for the 17 American and British oil properties.

The indications of labor dissatisfaction came from Carlos Flores, labor department inspector in Tampico and member of the powerful union there which controls 6000 ex-employees of the Agula (Royal Dutch Shell) company.

The government "took advantage of labor-capital conflict to create international political conflict" by the expropriation, Flores charged.

Brick Dust

RAMBLING AROUND ORANGE COUNTY

—with—
T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

What, during the past few months, has become of the drive originating in Laguna Beach, to remove beer cans from the highways?

For awhile there was whooping and yowling about said cans. Now no one says very much.

True, there aren't so many these days, but the few remaining look pretty bad.

How's this for an idea? Have our open-minded friends in Washington appoint a new commission which can hire men to place the empties erect and plant flowers in them.

Either that or plant the cast-throwners in the cans!

Ray Overacker—yeah, he's still city attorney at Huntington Beach—is still bragging about his idea for Boy Scouts and their signal practice.

Ray's going to take a bunch of 'em clear to the top of Saddleback, and they'll signal another bunch—Sea Scouts—who have sailed to Catalina.

They'll attempt to establish communication by means of heliograph. Which seems to be some method of blinking at each other. And I didn't say anything, either.

Ray has kindly offered to escort me on a hike to the top of that mountain several times, but I've always excused myself. He probably is aware that the editorial backs and legs wouldn't stand any such trip, and is trying to get me up where the coyotes will pick my bones. And then I wouldn't be around to pester him any longer!

Ray really has a good idea in that Scout hike, however. It'll be good hiking practice for the boys, and they'll learn some more about signaling.

Jim Farquhar, who sits in his cubbyhole in the Huntington Beach News office and sately watches the world go by, making pithy remarks about this and that, noticed San Clemente in last week's issue.

"San Clemente is taking on new life. Ole Hanson did have vision. He took in too much territory. The town stretches for miles along the beach. But some day progress will catch up with the ex-Seattle mayor's dream. Meanwhile signs of returning activity are heartening. The nearly deserted village is building back slowly but sanely on its beautiful site."

I don't think some of my good friends in the Spanish village will quite agree with him on the "deserted" angle, but the rest is fine. The town is growing, and there isn't any political bickering right now, and all is well.

Although I haven't heard news lately of my friend Bill Holmes, very efficient clerk, I think he's better get down and check up on Bill, I guess, to see if he's lost his British accent, maybe, and can't say hello!

A certain admiral from Placentia dropped by my sad shack the other day, accompanied by an equally illustrious hardware dealer from the same area.

I wasn't home, so they left a note, mostly concerning the shabby state of the front lawn.

Think I'm a bit of a snob. I don't watch out. I'll make cutting remarks concerning portions of his orange grove, which I understand went down the river with the flood!

There seems to be some sort of a battle in the air at Newport concerning smoking of fish.

The planning commission has received a petition asking that smoking (of fish) be allowed within a certain restricted area. Understand the model yachting ordinance doesn't allow any more smokies to be erected, or something like that.

These folks contend—and rightly, too—that it's a home industry and they're making their livings out of it and should be allowed to go ahead. They don't want any wholesale smoking or canning of fish in that district, just their own home-grown efforts.

Seems to me it'd be a good idea to let 'em continue. They're never going to make a model yachting community out of that section of the harbor district anyway, and the smoked-fish stands, and all that goes with 'em gives the place a sort of picturesque atmosphere, anyway.

This idea someone suggested not so long ago about an old-fashioned Cape Cod fishing village sounds pretty good to me. The industry has a rightful place in the community, so they'd better make it as pleasant as possible.

P-T A. HEADS AT G. G. RE-ELECTED

GARDEN GROVE.—All officers of the high school Parent-Teacher association for the past year were reinstated when the annual election was held Monday evening.

They are: Mrs. Victor Echols, president; Mrs. E. A. Wadham, vice-president; Mrs. Vera Stull, secretary; Leslie Wright, treasurer; and Mrs. J. O. Arkley, parliamentarian. Mrs. J. L. Mitchell reported for the nominating committee.

For the program Dr. Charles Ruby of Fullerton Junior college continued his series of lectures on "Consumer Education" by discussing advertising. Duane Ve Del of Brea was presented by Leland Green, music chairman, in two vocal solos.

MESA C. OF C. GETS ACTION ON CIVIC PROJECTS

COSTA MESA.—Action was taken on several matters of importance at the chamber of commerce meeting, Monday night.

Lloyd Willcutt, supervisor of the Harbor Recreation projects in the harbor district, gave a detailed report of the work being done in the Costa Mesa territory. At the present time a playground supervisor is employed at the Lindbergh school; a music instructor at the Main Elementary school and two craft centers are maintained, one in the old bank building and the other at the library. A beautification project is being carried on by children under federal supervision, at the Community church.

The Costa Mesa Garden club is cooperating by supplying plant material for the project.

Willcutt also reported that a national craft show was to be held in Utah, beginning April 6. Each craft center in the U. S. is to enter its finest products. Wayne Flinn was appointed to work with Willcutt in selecting the entry to be sent from Costa Mesa.

Action on the neon sign was tabled until the committee may definitely learn what funds will be available for its purpose. A representative from a Santa Ana neon sign company demonstrated the various types and colors of signs available.

Wayne Flinn reported on the joint directors meeting held recently with the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce. A resolution recommending immediate repair of the outfall sewer was read and adopted. The same resolution was previously adopted by both the Newport Harbor chamber and the Orange County Coast association.

A committee to work toward formation of a sanitary district was appointed. Dr. C. G. Huston to act as chairman and C. W. To Winkle and Leroy Anderson as committee members.

A drainage committee to be headed by L. R. Daughenbaugh, will be composed of Floyd Marsh, Gus Beach, Edith Mandery, F. E. Russell, Dennis Hogland and possibly others.

In the absence of the president, M. G. Eighmey, who is confined to the hospital, Vice President H. B. McMurtry presided.

ORANGE RELIEF GROUP MEETS

ORANGE.—The March party held by the Woman's Relief group was given in the home of Mrs. Pearl Higgins Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Lillian Westman and Mrs. Mertie Harrison as co-hostesses.

One guest, Mrs. Dorothy Richardson, attended in addition to the following card members: Mesdames Ethel Mann, Della Hoskins, Evelyn Smith, Clara Pratt, Alvira Otto, Julia Miller, Edith Rodgers, Harriet Burmann, Edith Richardson, Genelia Richardson, Freda Porter, Frances Allen and Grace Deck.

The first track meet of the season is scheduled for the Westminster field next Friday, at which time Oceanview will be the visiting school.

This is to be one of a series which rural schools of this section plan for the future with grades 5-8 participating. Six events are planned for the girls and seven for the boys. The meet will begin promptly at 12:30 o'clock.

FIREMEN PLAN MIDWAY EVENT

MIDWAY CITY.—Midway City state firemen have announced a social evening and pot-luck dinner to be held in the fire hall club-room next Friday evening.

The group will entertain J. A. Scherman and Rolfe Johnson, state fire rangers, and their wives as special guests at that time, when wives of local firemen will be of the group.

Trio Feted at Birthday Event

WESTMINSTER.—A buffet supper party observing the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Lillie Price, her daughter-in-law Mrs. John Price and the latter's mother, Mrs. Florence Winters, of South Dakota, was held recently in the Price home.

Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. John Price and sons Kenneth and Earl; Mrs. Lillie Stanley and daughter, Lillie Alta Stanley; Mrs. Anna J. Lake Price, Lawrence Price, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kuhl and children, Ralph, Glen, Mable and Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Price, Johnny, Orpha Irene and Billy Price, and John Price.

Mrs. Winters who has left for her home by way of Oregon, where she will visit a son, was given a farewell in connection with the party.

ANNIVERSARY FETE

TUSTIN.—Mrs. E. A. Wadham, W. Flesher of San Juan street entertained a number of friends at a dinner Saturday night at the Nutberry farm. The occasion commemorated their 45th wedding anniversary.

Westminster Is Scene of Party

WESTMINSTER.—A demonstration dinner was served recently by F. Ferguson of Inglewood in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Del Radio of New Westminster.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Swisholm of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Boudreau of Oceanview; Mrs. Thomas Albert and son, Howard, of Midway City; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wise, Mr. and Mrs. James Glover and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith.

MODEST MAIDENS

"I'm learning fast! Today I found out what it means when they yell 'Fore!'"

Lush Re-Elected Sunday School Leader in Orange

ORANGE.—C. E. Lush was re-elected superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school last night, when teachers and officers held their annual meeting and election following a 6:30 dinner at the church.

E. J. Campbell is assistant superintendent; Walter West, secretary; Walter Lovell, treasurer; Edith Culter, recording and enrollment secretary; Mrs. W. A. Settle, temperance secretary, and Mrs. D. P. Crawford, home department secretary.

Reports from all departments were given and plans for the coming year outlined. The pastor, Dr. Robert B. McAulay spoke on "Seeing Signs for the New Year," and told how improvement can be made in attendance and in the officers and teachers as instructors.

Two new teachers were introduced, Mr. and Mrs. David French who will teach eighth grade boys and girls. C. E. Lush presided and Marian Linnert acted as secretary.

Superintendents of Departments were announced as: Mrs. Henry Joost, nursery department; Miss Elizabeth Palmer, beginners; Mrs. Vern O. Estes, primary; Mrs. C. E. Lush, junior; Mrs. Harvey Riggle, intermediate; Mrs. Robert B. McAulay, high school; Mrs. Donald Smiley, advisor of Young People's department and Mrs. Clyde Watson, adult department.

HARBOR CLUBS SATURDAY CLUB MEETS IN M.C.

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Plans are well under way for Newport Harbor's eighth annual athletic carnival and circus, to be held in the high school gym Friday evening.

This high athletic attraction is staged every year by the boys' physical education department and the Hi-Y club, and this year, in spite of the unusual date, promises to be bigger than ever.

The harbor community basketball championship will be decided that evening, when the two leading teams of the local league will meet in a deciding finale. Fifteen boxing matches to decide the school championships in every division will be held. An interesting mass girls' tap dancing squad will also be shown.

One of the main attractions of the evening will be the gymnastic exhibition given by the famous German Turnverein of Los Angeles, under the direction of the veteran, Carl Mettler. They proved to be such a success last year, 10 members of the group of 30 were asked to stage a return engagement. They will use the flying rings and demonstrate hand-balancing.

Other outside talent includes a tumbling squad from the University of Southern California, which will really demonstrate what can be done in the line, and an exhibition of fly casting will be shown by a reputed champion in that line.

2 JAPANESE GROUPS FETED

GARDEN GROVE.—The Japanese Baptists Young People's union entertained Japanese young people from two other churches, the Wintertown C. E. group and the Downey B. Y. P. U., in the local Baptist church bungalow Saturday evening. Miss Kiyoko Sakai, president of the local society, welcomed the guests and then presented J. B. Wilbur, northern Orange county Y. M. C. A. secretary, as program speaker.

Nori Masuda and Ben Allen entertained with vocal solos after which Harry Matsukane directed a social hour which included games, stunts and playing of Hawaiian melodies by Joe and Ben Allen. Refreshments were in charge of Ruth Endo and Rose Shinto. More than 65 persons attended.

Boat Operator Runs Out of Gas Off Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH.—Laguna Beach residents witnessed the rescue of a stalled motor boat off Laguna shores Sunday.

Mac O'Hern of Newport, who had just delivered a boat to San Diego and was returning with the trade-in, ran out of gas off Laguna. He eventually attracted the attention of Jack Christian, Fred Schwankovsky and Paul Schilling on shore. The boys immediately shoved off and finally brought O'Hern back to shore where he was able to procure gas for the trip to Newport.

Laguna Club To Meet on Friday

LAGUNA BEACH.—At a luncheon meeting of the Woman's club Friday, Mrs. H. R. Archibald will speak on "Child Welfare." Mrs. John Stewart of Hemet also will speak.

Members of the P-T-A. have been invited as guests of the club to hear Mrs. Archibald's address.

MURBARGER HIT WITH SCOUTS OF COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA.—W. B. Murbarger was speaker at a recent meeting of the Costa Mesa Boy Scouts, at this time presenting the local troop with the mounted head of a Kodiak bear, shot by him on a trip to Alaska, in 1921. These bears, which are the largest known, are extremely rare, being found no place in the world but on Kodiak island, off the coast of Alaska, Murbarger said. The animal from which the head was taken was described as an 800-pound male, approximately five years old and slightly more than nine feet in length.

Murbarger also presented the troop with the head of a mountain sheep, secured in Alaska on the same trip; a pair of buffalo horns, dating from the early days in Kansas, several pair of deer antlers and a large oil painting of a Cascade mountain scene.

The subject of his talk was the early life of Orange county. Various beads, basket mortars, charms and other artifacts secured by the local archeologist in Santa Barbara county during the past winter, were also exhibited and the use demonstrated.

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Uniting to gather the best first-hand information regarding amendments to the Federal Housing acts, Presidents Heinz Kaiser of the Newport Harbor Service club, Paul A. Palmer of the Newport Harbor Realty board and Walter S. Spicer of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce are planning a joint meeting on April 27, when W. O. Harris of the Federal Housing administration will address a luncheon at which will be gathered representatives from all the organizations.

The luncheon will be open and a large attendance is anticipated, as it is expected that much construction can be arranged with the new features of the federal financing plans. The place of meeting will be Wilson's cafe, on Palm and the Bay Front, Balboa, and all three presidents will participate in presiding at this united conference.

Reservations can be made with any member of the three groups or with the chamber of commerce. Judge Grainger Hyer is chairman for the Service club, and will take part in the program. Harris is well known at Newport-Balboa, where a few years ago he operated and owned one of the famous "161" speed boats.

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spafford and Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt were hosts to members of the Saturday Night club at their monthly dinner and bridge Saturday evening in the Woman's clubhouse.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard, Dr. and Mrs. Russell I. Johnson, Mrs. Stella Johnson, Miss Della Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Pryor, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. ## LOUIS WILL EXPERIMENT WITH THOMAS

CHICAGO, (AP)—Swing Man Harry Thomas is going to serve as a double for the only man ever to stop him—Max Schmeling—when he faces Champion Joe Louis in a 15-round battle in the Chicago stadium Friday night.

Louis revealed today that he is going to imagine that he is fighting Schmeling, so that he can prove a few things to himself and correct mistakes he made when the German knocked him out in 11 rounds two years ago. This will be his last engagement before a return match with Schmeling somewhere in these United States next June 22.

"I'm going after Thomas the same way I expect to go after Schmeling," Louis said. "Thomas has an awkward style. He does everything wrong. He fires his shell from any old place and knows nothing about boxing, but that won't stop me from practicing on him with some of the stuff I will use on the German."

The Brown Bomber therefore may be expected to blast away with straight jabs to the head and right uppercuts and right-hand punches to the body and head. He may not attempt to score with left hooks to the body until he is satisfied that he can hold his left hand high and jab straight with it. Thomas, who boxes wide open, betrays his fists with his feet, and usually waves his punches, figures to give Louis all the opportunity he wants to do any experimenting. Thomas' one chance of upsetting the titleholder is to take the skillful negro by surprise with a knock-out crusher on his chin.

Giants Engage In 'Skull' Practice

BATON ROUGE, (AP)—Bill Terry's answer to recent criticisms of National league baseball was two hours of "skull" practice for his New York Giants. "That's my answer," he said, adding, "A man who can bust up a ball game with a hit is a great asset, but he is worth as much if he also can save a game by being a fine defensive player."

DOTS, DASHES AND ONE OR TWO FLASHES

Let there be light!
Huntington Beach's nightball commission, long the target for bitter criticism from disgruntled fans who resented watching a game in the "dark," has finally seen the light.

Six new poles, considerably brightening the Oilers' spacious park, have been installed, and should make the fans forget the dim past.

No longer will softball rivals, losing to the Oilers in their own backyard, have the opportunity to aibb, "You can't hit the ball unless you can see it."
The Huntington Beach park unquestionably has been darker than such strongholds as Santa Ana's Municipal bowl, Anaheim, Orange, San Bernardino and Westminster, and it is no more than right that the Oilers commission should install more and brighter bulbs.

Do you know that Harry Thomas, the courageous heavyweight who trades punches with Champion Joe Louis in Chicago Friday night, is just Harry Thomas in the ring?

It's a fighting name. His real monicker was Henry Pontius until he took the name Thomas from his uncle, Dan Thomas, old-time fighter in England and Wales, who now conducts a gym for boxers in Los Angeles. Thomas also is his mother's maiden name.

Thomas—or Pontius—is a mixture of French, Irish, Welsh and Scottish blood. Officially, he's 28 years old, but off the record they say he's slightly older. He has been fighting since 1923.

Associated Press wire informs us Louis plans to think of Thomas as being "Schmeling" Friday night in tuning up for his championship bout with the German challenger June 22. Could it be that Schmeling is haunting Louis? The Bomber has been talking about Moxie a lot these days, and it really isn't easy for the Detroit negro to forget the Brown Bomber.

GRANT, RIGGS NET CHOICES

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Little Betsy Grant of Atlanta and Bobby Riggs of Chicago, today moved into the fore as the men to beat in the eighth annual River Oaks tennis tournament.

Grant, playing at top form, yesterday, sank Fred Royer of Dallas, 6-1, 6-0. He had a comparatively easy time of it, but was taking no chances.

get that beating he took from Schmeling a few months ago.

Attention, infielders: Second base and shortstop are wide open on Santa Ana's first-string, what with Charley Comstock pulling stakes for the Anaheim Valencias, and Manager "Doc" Smith deciding to do his master-minding from the bench this year. It's a fair if not outright safe bet that George Preble will be on second, Tommy Lucy on short when the Stars open league fire May 10.

Among Orange county's "finds" of the 1937-38 sports year: Football—Johnny Joseph, new co-captain and Eastern J. C. conference end of our Dons Basketball—Harold Lilley and Everett Winkler of Tustin's Orange league champions. Baseball—Tommy Wilkins, No. 1 curve-ball pitcher of our Saints. Track—Eddie Morris, Huntington Beach's sensational sprinter with times of 9.8 and 21.3 for the century and furlong already to his credit this year.

That magician didn't hypnotize Larry Stump, the Saint football star, and Dick Wright, journalist, on the stage the other night. However, he did all most cause Stump to swallow a plug-ping ball. Most of the other wild antics were make-believe. Aw, shucks!

M'VICAR-KERLEY GOLF VICTORS

Mrs. P. H. McVicar and Mrs. E. R. Kerley, 86-16-70, won low-meat partner medal play for women golfers at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday.

Second honors went to Mrs. Paul Hall and Mrs. R. G. Cartwright, 87-16-71.

Don Trackmen Test San Berdoo; Smith Greets 14 Star Rookies

COOKMEN IN FIRST HOME DUAL MEET

Walt Opp Points For Double Win

Mobilizing on Poly field for the first of three important Eastern conference track and field meets at home, Santa Ana Junior college's cinder squad—25 strong—opposes the invading San Bernardino forces at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

It will be the Dons' second dual of the season, Bill Cook's men having dropped their opener to Chaffey last week, 67-64. The team engages Riverside's sparkling outfit next week at the high school and tests Fullerton here following spring vacation.

Although smothered by Riverside's forces, 93-38, two weeks ago, Coach Art Schaeffer's San Bernardino squad cut into the scoring with four first places and against the Dons tomorrow will be favored in six events.

On second and third places, which dropped the Dons out of the league against Chaffey last week, will hinge the result of the meet. Bill Huntalas, who captured first in the 220 against Chaffey, will not compete until the Fullerton meet. Johnny Cross of San Bernardino will be favored in the 100 and should give Walt Opp of Santa Ana spirited competition in the furlong.

Snyder in the 880, Smith in the mile, Rozier in the shot-put, Matthe in the broad jump and Haggard in the javelin may hang up first-place ribbons for San Bernardino.

The Dons' stronghold for first place is confined in the 220 and 440, where Opp is scheduled to come through a double winner. Don Hall is rated best in the two-mile and Gil Brookings and Blas Mercurio should cop the high and low hurdles. Erwin Youel may raise his 11:10 pole vault standard another notch and Captain Mercurio should have little trouble in the high jump. Opp and Les Huhn are Santa Ana's discus hopes. The Don relay foursome is conceded an edge.

JOE E. BROWN OFFICIATES

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Joe E. Brown, wide-mouthed film comedian, was named today as the "fin" baffle in ceremonies preceding the Pacific coast opening day game between Los Angeles and Hollywood at Whigley field Saturday.

Mayor Frank Shaw will throw the first ball, with Sheriff Gene Biscailuz on the receiving end.

DON NINE OPENS AT FULLERTON

Opening the Eastern J. C. conference baseball season at Fullerton, Santa Ana's Dons tangle with Fullerton's Hornets Friday afternoon, with Jack McClure and Art Nieblas scheduled to take the mound against "Bus" DeVolder of the yellowjackets. Coach Art Nunn's Fullerton champions are favored to retain their title.

Joe Marty Hitting Hard With Cubs After Poor Start

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Charley Grimm's dream of a hard-hitting outfielder for his Chicago Cubs may be fulfilled. Joe Marty, unimpressive as a freshman last year, has been hitting hard this spring and connected for three doubles and a single in five tries against the White Sox yesterday. The Pittsburgh Pirates, opposing the Cubs today, may have to get along without Paul Waner, who pulled a leg muscle slightly yesterday.

Hollywood Legion Plans New Arena

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Plans for a new boxing arena on the site of Hollywood American Legion's present stadium will be voted on by members of Post No. 43 next Tuesday night.

If the vote is favorable, a softball park probably will be leased for fight programs during the summer months while the new plant is being built.

Appling's Injury Hard Blow to Sox

PASADENA, (AP)—Still shrouded in gloom because of Luke Appling's ankle fracture, which showed up as a double break under the X-ray, the Chicago White Sox came here today for a final workout before starting their eastern trip with the Cubs, Pittsburgh and the St. Louis Browns.

Cronin Optimistic:

'GIVEN A FEW BREAKS, BOSTON WILL BE TOUGH'

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Feature Service Writer
SARASOTA, Fla.—The old rocking chair has caught up with all major league managers except Joe Cronin, the peppery Irishman who is needing the Red Sox for a surprise assault on the American league flag.

And the 31-year-old Californian, in great shape after a winter on the golf links, looks fit to do a bit of fancy shortstopping for the Boston in his fourth season as skipper.

Joe has bumped into some bitter disappointments since he went to Boston. He thought that all the gilt-edged stars that Tom Yawkey's gold dollars bought would fetch a bunch of pennants. But he forgot to figure in the element of temperament. Some of those acres didn't see eye-to-eye with the others, a touch of dissension appeared and the Red Hose flopped.

The atmosphere has cleared this season and there's real pep and ginger at this Sarasota "camp." Some of these stars aren't as young as they used to be. They're really working hard now to keep from slipping. Furthermore, Cronin has imported one of the finest collection of rookie talent cowering in Florida and the "name" players know they've got

BLANTON MAY PITCH FOR PITTSBURGH

Beavers Drop 5-4
Contest to Angels

It will be Floyd (Arky) Vaughan day at Amerige park, Fullerton, tomorrow.

Orange county baseball fans are expected to tax the upcountry grandstand to capacity to see the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National league in action against Portland's Beavers of the Pacific Coast league.

Game-time is 2 p. m. Admission, 75 cents for adults, 40 cents for children.

The customary adult admission of 40 cents for Portland exhibitions was abandoned to meet the demands of Pittsburgh officials.

Vaughan, crack shortstop of the Pirates, who led the National league in hitting with a .385 mark in '33, is a home-town product, having been graduated from Fullerton High school after a brilliant career in baseball and basketball. He has been in the major leagues five years—with Pittsburgh only.

The Pirates are expected to start Cy Blanton on the mound. . . . Manager Bill Sweeney's Portland club, which lost a 5-4 decision to Los Angeles at Fullerton yesterday, was to engage "Truck" Hannah's Angels again today at Ontario.

BOYD KNOCKS OUT NESTELL

SEATTLE, (AP)—Wild Bill Boyd, 189, former U. S. navy heavyweight champion, now of Seattle, squared accounts with Bob Nestell, 186, Los Angeles, last night, knocking him out in the first round of their scheduled 10-round main event.

Goose Goslin Raps Homer With Two Men on Base

HAPES, BAKER, CARTWRIGHT JOIN SQUAD

Jim Coates' Young Brother in Turnout

By PAUL WRIGHT

Santa Ana's Stars may not set the National Nightball league afire this season, but rail-birds who saw their first organized drill at the Municipal bowl last night cannot deny Manager "Doc" Smith's charges are bubbling over with enthusiasm.

It was "rookie night" at the Sixth and Flower street stadium, and 14 anxious lads with City league or high school softball experience greeted the Stars' boss for an hour and a-half of batting and fielding practice.

DRILL AGAIN THURSDAY
A similar drill will be conducted at the bowl tomorrow night, preparatory to the Stars' first exhibition with the Santa Ana Elks' senior club, managed by Darwin Scott, at the bowl April 7.

Star regulars will report officially next Tuesday night.

Among the newcomers who showed promise last night were Merle Hapes and Chet Coates of Garden Grove. Hapes, brother of Ray and Clarence Hapes of University of Mississippi football fame, is a catcher. Coates, kid brother of Jimmy Coates whom the Stars hope to sign as No. 1 hurler, pitches or plays third base.

Fred Cartwright, one of the most consistent hitters in the City league, who plays first base and patrols the outfield, was another fine recruit. Others were Bill Rumbaugh, an outfielder; "Spud" Warrecker, infielder; George Conaway, Lloyd Kneeland and "Bud" Baker, the latter having tried out with Portland's Beavers. Baker vaulted several into the bleachers, and shows promise as an outfielder.

LACY MAY REPORT
Tommy Lacy, Holly Sugar company star who received his release from the Orange Cubs last year, is expected in a Santa Ana uniform tomorrow night. Lacy is a steady shortstop and third baseman.

Other recruits who have reported to Manager Smith are Art Elms, Finley Walker, Lawrence Barnhardt, Vern Carlson, Gale Bray and Al Conrad.

The National Nightball league schedule opens May 10.

ARMSTRONG FIGHTS FELDMAN TONIGHT; PLANS OUTLINED

NEW YORK, (AP)—Henry Armstrong, the dark bit of dynamite who rules the featherweights, takes on Lew Feldman at the Hippodrome tonight in a prelude match to one of the stiffest spring and summer campaigns any fighter ever faced.

After nearly three hours of debate yesterday, the New York State Athletic commission issued the following schedule for Henry's summer title appearances, all of them in New York.

(1) The sad-eyed negro will meet Barney Ross for the welterweight championship May 26.

(2) If Ross beats Armstrong, he will defend his title against Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers July 26 and Armstrong will meet Ambers for the 135-pound title Sept. 14.

(3) Should Armstrong beat Ross on May 26 he will get a shot for his third title against Ambers July 26.

U. C. L. A. Wins Again From Bronces

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The University of California at Los Angeles baseball team made a clean sweep of its series with the University of Santa Clara.

The Bruins made it two in a row over the visitors yesterday by a five-run spurge in the seventh inning, breaking a 5-5 tie and eventually winning 11 to 8.

In the words of the great game, when you hear the cry, "Play Ball!" don't yawn and stretch and settle down. Jump up, get busy, and put them over hot and strong.

STORE PROTECTION SERVICE OFFERED BY WAGNER FIRM

Many kinds of protection, about which the general public knows nothing, are offered to business firms and individuals by the Merchants' Police and Protective Service, 610 North Main Street, Santa Ana. Being licensed and bonded by the state of California and headed by Gilbert F. Wagner, veteran police officer, the organization has made an enviable record in efficiency through the co-operation of the local police department and merchants, who see the value of such service since its re-organization.

In addition to the nightly patrol service, the firm also offers a private detective and investigation service of all kinds. This service being very successful for the simple reason the same policies are used by this organization as by larger successful agencies of this kind.

A safety deposit box service is also available for those who do not wish to carry excess cash or valuables after banking hours or while away on week-ends, or vacation time. Cash or valuables will be picked up by two guards that will deliver it to any place in the city of Santa Ana. In fact, according to Mr. Wagner, any special detective or guard service required, will be immediately furnished upon calling Santa Ana 5410 or calling at their office, 610 N. Main Street.

Post Brothers Rent Tractors

No longer is it necessary for the Orange County orchard owner or rancher to tie up hundreds of dollars in tractors and agricultural equipment which he uses only a few days out of the year. Because the Post Bros. Tractor Rental Service, West First Street, Bolsa, offers a rental service on tractors and all kind of equipment for agricultural work, road building and excavating. Tractors are furnished for any length of time, with or without drivers. All agricultural equipment that may possibly be needed is available.

Building Aided By F. H. A.

"Liberalized amendments to the National Housing Act recently enacted justify an expectation of increased volume of home building during the coming months. This may be retarded, however, by an erroneous impression in the minds of prospective home builders that lumber and building materials are high. This is definitely not the case, and the contrary is easily provable." This was the statement made today by William J. Tway of the Santa Ana Lumber company, chairman of the public committee of the Orange County Builders exchange, which has been assembling data on the trend of costs.

The price of lumber and building materials at the moment is actually 150 per cent less than the average for 20 years. Tway pointed out. The fact that the depression years are included in this span of time makes the present prices even more nominal on a comparative basis.

A survey has been made of the Los Angeles Metropolitan district, which embraces Orange county, as to the going prices of rough and finish lumber, shingles, sash, doors, screens, cabinet doors, hardwood flooring, rough and finish hardware, paint, cement, plaster materials, sand, gravel and rock. By "going price" is meant the best price an owner or builder could obtain in the Metropolitan area.

In arriving at the price the materials were scheduled which were used in the construction of a residence which was built in March, 1918. The same materials were checked against records of the market at six months' intervals for 20 years. The average price for all lumber and building materials for the 20 years was $2955.76. The price of the same material on March 15, 1938, was $2899.76. It is considered that 1924 to 1929 were normal building years in this section. The average price being in 1922 and 1923. The present price is 3 per cent below the average for 1924 to 1929. The house used in the schedule test was larger than the normal average residence built in this vicinity.

The comparisons compiled, which have been checked and verified by the California Retail Lumbermen's association, are as follows:

	March 15	Sept. 15
1918	$2866.56	$2697.68
1919	2934.66	3556.60
1920	4527.29	4236.42
1921	3357.73	3411.04
1922	3794.31	3464.98
1923	3779.99	3779.99
1924	3507.08	3377.72
1925	3779.99	3023.43
1926	3649.70	3042.42
1927	3028.69	2682.28
1928	2471.62	2484.87
1929	2878.71	2779.84

Easy Matter To Own Residence

There is no longer an excuse for anyone not to own their own home when such favorable terms are offered by the new F. H. A. Housing Administration, according to Jasper Farney, local builder and contractor, 313 Bush Street, Santa Ana. In explaining the details of the new housing act, Mr. Farney stressed the low interest rate, the long period of repayment and the large amount loaned on a new dwelling.

formation concerning high costs of materials comes from various sources—public officials, newspapers, economic experts and others. The fact remains, he says, that however sincere these expressions have been, they are not founded on fact, if the comparison of cost is made item for item.

It is true, it was pointed out, that one five-room house of 1200 feet floor area, for example, built a dozen years ago might have cost less than another five-room house of like floor area being built today. The reasons for this difference in cost are obvious, and are made up of two chief factors, Tway said.

First, the prospective home owner of today is not satisfied with the homes as built in 1925 or 1926. The previous nominal bathroom has been succeeded by a bath and a half or by a more elaborate bathroom with tile floor and wainscot, shower stall, and possibly shower door instead of shower curtain. The doorbell has been succeeded by electric chimes. In electric wiring, service and wall outlets are required in double the number previously used. Wardrobes and steel metal cabinets with plate mirrors and chrome trim have succeeded the small built-in cabinet and the wood medicine chest with crystal mirror. These are but examples. Many other like things have been added for the convenience, utility and richness of the home.

The second change in cost factor is brought about by increased building requirements. Improved building ordinances require better framing, heavier dimension lumber, better foundations, better roofing increased requirements for stucco reinforcing. Many other factors of this kind can all be translated into a single sentence—the house of today is built better structurally, will retain its value longer and will last longer.

"An answer to the whole question is quite simple," Tway concluded. "If you want the house that was built 10 years ago, the price is no higher. If you want a modern home it will cost you more for the entire structure, to a small extent, but the unit price is less. Mr. Home Builder is getting more for his money."

I Just Found Out

About
Circus
Folk
—By—
MILLARD
BROWNE

"Step right up, folks—the big show goes on in just a moment." The magic chant meant circus-time to Santa Anans yesterday—just as it will thrill Pomona crowds today, Huntington Park folk tomorrow and throngs in Long Beach this week-end.

Here today, gone tomorrow. Yes, sir, the big show certainly gets around—but only because of the 600-odd "unsung heroes" who have the assignment of getting things in place.

It's a fairly good-sized city that rises mechanically into position on circus morning, comes down just after the grand finale. And there's no room for loafers.

The average circus roustabout lasts around two weeks—comes on for the thrill, or the money, or maybe just the ride, then quits after payday because the goin's too tough. The thrill keeps a lot of them at it, though—some for the rest of their lives.

The whole circus crew is divided into departments, and each department has its own foreman to see that a specific job is done. Only circus workers exempted from the strenuous jobs of setting up and tearing down are the performers ("kinklers," they're called in circus parlance).

In the Barnes-Sells Floto circus that rumbled out of Santa Ana early today, for instance, 60 canvasmen are assigned to the Big Top alone. The 30-odd "candy butchers" (guys who peddle peanuts and such) set up the menagerie, while the ushers help spread canvas, set up bleachers.

The whole thing's specialized, right down the line. There's a gang of pole riggers for the big tent, block and chain gangs to lay the lumber for bleachers; even the barkers and ticket sellers have to help roll canvas, do other odd jobs on the set-up.

The circus ordinarily rolls into town early in the morning, and setting up begins right at daybreak. Record set-up on the Barnes show was three hours, happened back in Salda, Colo., last summer when the train didn't get in until 1 p. m. The show—even the matinee—went on that day.

After the show, workmen have nearly as tough a job as before, must start "knocking down" while the wild west show is still going on. They're usually all loaded by midnight, though they often don't get out of town till 3 or 4 a. m.

Specially designed wagons (drawn by horses, trucks and elephants) get the circus from the depot to the grounds, which are mapped out ahead of time so everyone will know where each wagon goes. Takes two wagons to carry the 12-piece Big Top, separate canvas wagons for the sideshow, menagerie and dressing room.

The 250 stakes holding the main tent all go in one wagon, while another takes care of the 48 quarter-poles and stakes used to hold them. 80 more side poles and the Big Top's four main poles (60 feet high, one foot in diameter).

Canvas and stakes take up just a small section of the wagon parade, however. Providing seats for the 5000-odd customers necessitates two chair wagons, two wagons for chair flooring, two more for "starbacks" (reserved seats with back and foot rests, but no chairs), and two others for the bleachers. "Jacks" (A-shaped props holding up the bleachers) go in another series of wagons.

Wind and rain are toughest ele-

NEW COLLEGIATE SONG HITTING JAYSEE EFFORT

By DELPHA WOLLERT
Introduction of the newest collegiate song, hitting local jaysee conditions in an effort to push the present campaign, was given last night by three members of Las Meninas, women's service club, at the annual Ladies' stag.

Appropriately titled to the popular melody of "Thanks for the Memory," Bette Ann Munson, Ruth Switzer and Betty Neff composed the lyrics as follows:

IN MEMORIAM
For many long years now it's lasted,
But we think it's time it was blasted,
All these long years have been wasted,
So can't you see, we need a new Jaysee?
So, thanks for the old brick college hall,
And buildings scattered here—
Buildings here and buildings there
And buildings everywhere
Wow, have we got burions!

Thanks for the memories
Of holes in our silk socks
And battered shoes—from knocks
On splintered desks, what awful pests
We prefer the chicken pox—
How lousy it was!

Thanks for the memories
Of no assembly hall
Of lounges much too small
No tennis courts, no place for sports
Rent must be paid for all
Oh, T'enk you so much!

We'd leave it all in a moment,
If people would get what "El Don" meant,
And build a new school for atonement.

For all we've gone through,
And we do mean you!

So thanks for the memories,
We hope you won't be long
Till all have heard our song
And join the cause, without a pause

To right this awful wrong—
And thank you, thank you so much!

Lotus London, Anaheim publisher, having announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress for this district, went into action this week to spread the idea around. In a statement issued today he calls attention to his record of public service and gave notice that he will be campaigning until the deciding vote is cast at the Riverside convention April 23.

London is at present chairman of the board of directors of the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi. He served as president of the Southern California Economic council, and is also a former president of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce.

Blind persons in the state, during the same period, received $261,691.85.

ments for circusmen to combat. High winds keep everyone in the place jittery, since it might blow the Big Top loose, while rains make setting up and tearing down a miserable job.

The circus may show for only one day, but it really lasts about three weeks. Because sign posters travel a fortnight ahead of the show, 24-hour men come in a day ahead to make final arrangements for grounds and feed, and "trailers" follow the show to be sure it's left a good taste in everyone's mouth, and to take care of any complaints.

Oldest hands in the Barnes circus are Mabel Stark, the tiger handler, Eddie Trees, boss of the animals; Robert Thornton, ringmaster; Pete Pedderson, a 24-hour man, and "Reno" Dahlgren, veteran canvasman. They've all been trouping around 20 years.

ments for circusmen to combat. High winds keep everyone in the place jittery, since it might blow the Big Top loose, while rains make setting up and tearing down a miserable job.

The circus may show for only one day, but it really lasts about three weeks. Because sign posters travel a fortnight ahead of the show, 24-hour men come in a day ahead to make final arrangements for grounds and feed, and "trailers" follow the show to be sure it's left a good taste in everyone's mouth, and to take care of any complaints.

Oldest hands in the Barnes circus are Mabel Stark, the tiger handler, Eddie Trees, boss of the animals; Robert Thornton, ringmaster; Pete Pedderson, a 24-hour man, and "Reno" Dahlgren, veteran canvasman. They've all been trouping around 20 years.

El Toro Camp Sets 'Open House' Date

El Toro Veterans camp of the Civilian Conservation Corps, will celebrate the fifth anniversary of the CCC camps, April 3 with "Open House," 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

Dinner will be served at 1 o'clock. There will be a band concert, camp inspection, music and drills, flag ceremony with supper at 5:15 p. m.

About 100,000 veterans still are eligible for World War bonus bonds, the aggregate amount due them being about $84,000,000. The law permits applications up to 1940.

GROWERS GIVEN NICE RETURN ON SALE FAILURES

Collections made on behalf of California growers and producers by the division of market enforcement, state department of agriculture, so far this year, exceed the total of any previous year for the same period, a report received here said today.

This year to March 1 the division has been responsible for the collection and return to growers, without costs to them, of more than $130,000. One hundred and fifty-four growers participated in the total recovered. Of that total, $38,000 was returned to the farmers in February.

Growers of fruits and vegetables whether their product is sold fresh or for canning or drying purposes, may file claims with the division when buyers or handlers fail to fulfill the terms of contracts or agreements.

The division has offices in Los Angeles, at the State building.

ORCHARD HEAT WORK CHANGED

DAVIS.—The orchard heating work under way in the University of California college of agriculture, said the warm winter in the southern part of the state did not give as much opportunity for the study as had been hoped.

Satisfactory heaters as far as smoke is concerned have been devised, Professor Walker says. However, with six and a half million heaters in operation, the change in equipment would run into millions of dollars, which the growers are not willing to spend at the present time.

Traffic Fatalities Show Big Decrease

Traffic deaths decreased by 99 in the first two months of 1938, a state motor vehicle report says. There were 220 deaths in January, 195 in February as compared to 305 in January of last year and 209 in February.

York Right Masons Meet Apr. 14 to 19

The Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters will hold the spotlight on the opening day and night of the annual sessions of the grand bodies of York Rite Masonry, to be held in Santa Monica, April 14 to 19, inclusive.

Sugar Beet Acres Net $16.87 Per Acre

Cost studies on 273 acres of sugar beets in Orange county last year show an average cost of $70.60 per acre and an average net income of $16.87 per acre.

'Knuckles Down There Skinny Or It Ain't No Shot'

On the sidewalks of New York, Podunk Jonesville or Santa Ana—any nice parking lot will do or someone's backyard, preferable, one that Uncle John has just raked and cleaned will do for Young America when spring peeks over the back fences. Marbles, next to sandlot baseball, is probably the dearest out-door game in the hearts of youngsters the States-over. The above scene will be rehearsed many times and off in every city, hamlet and town in Uncle Sam's domain 'when school's out' and there ain't no chores to do.

ORANGE COUNTY COMPLIMENTED

Designation of the counties of Orange and Sonoma as modified accredited tuberculosis free areas has been approved by the United States department of agriculture, according to information received here from the division of animal industry, California department of agriculture.

Granting of the official designation brings the total of California counties so designated to 39.

Recent tuberculin testing of the cattle in Orange and Sonoma counties showed the total of reactors to be less than one-half of one per cent of the total tested.

In Orange county, 20,945 cattle were tested, of which 92 reacted. Of 53,803 cattle tested in Sonoma, 106 reacted.

Tuberculin testing of cattle is being done by state and federal veterinarians in the counties of Los Angeles, Kern, Tulare, Fresno, Merced and Stanislaus.

Warm Friend Lost By Institute In Mr. Scripps' Death

LA JOLLA.—An expression of sentiment, following the death of Mr. Robert P. Scripps, was unanimously adopted by the members of the staff of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography. It was presented to the members by Dr. H. U. Sverdrup, director, at a special meeting.

"In the passing of Mr. Robert P. Scripps, the Institution has lost a warm friend who, because of his love for the sea, had a broad understanding of our problems. With him we could discuss our plans for our researches; his interest and understanding were an inspiration to us. We knew that he took pride in the research vessel which he had given to the Institution, and to which he had permitted us to give the name of his father, E. W. Scripps.

"We felt deeply our obligation to him, and hoped, for our part, to show him that we could take full advantage of the facilities for work at sea which he had provided.

"We shall remember him not only as our benefactor but even more as a man who was our loyal friend."

Wings to Steady Ships on High Sea

BERLIN.—Ships could be steadied in heavy seas by submerged wings resembling airplane wings, in the opinion of Dr. Hans Reil-stab, well-known naval architect. Much more research is necessary before applying the principle to large boats, but experiments on small craft have been satisfactory, he declared in an interview.

Radio Singer To Play Ramona

Cristina Welles, beautiful young singing star of radio and motion pictures, will play the exacting role of "Ramona" in the pay of that name the fifteenth season which opens April 23 under the sponsorship of the twin cities of Hemet and San Jacinto in Riverside county.

2,000 Unemployed County Men Given Chance for Work

Two thousand Orange county unemployed have their chance to get work today—for three weeks in Idaho's beet fields.

Philip Playter, proprietor of a Los Angeles employment agency, told county supervisors about the chance yesterday. It might, he suggested, cut the relief rolls down.

Supervisors referred the letter to the National Reemployment service, after Playter said he had had a request for that number of men.

Work begins May 1, the board learned, and lasts for three weeks. Transportation to the fields is paid.

CHANNEL LINES POLICY UPHOLD

County supervisors' new policy of marking down "channel lines" and frowning on building beyond them along rivers was seconded today by the Orange county water district.

Willis Warner, director of the district, appeared before the board yesterday afternoon and said his fellow members were carrying out a similar policy in the area near the Yorba bridge.

RE-BIDS ASKED ON POSTAL LINE

The postoffice department at Washington, D. C., is asking for a re-bid on the star postal route between Santa Ana and Laguna Beach, according to L. F. Harvey, superintendent of mails.

At present the postal department is paying $230.28 annually cancelled when the department ordered a re-bid. Communications concerning the matter will be received by the second assistant postmaster at Washington up to April 19, Harvey said.

The route includes the communities of Costa Mesa, Balboa island, Newport Beach and Corona Del Mar.

WPA Band Concert Set For Birch Park

Program for the regular weekly concert by the Federal Music Project band at Birch Park today at 2:30 p. m., under supervision of Dale Porter, follows:

"Golden Friendship" march by Fillmore; "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna," (Von Suppe); light numbers as "In a Woodland Glade," (Holmes), and "Danube Waves," (Ivanovici); selection from Verdi's opera, "Aida," Saffranek's "Atlantis Suite," with another march by Fillmore closing.

EIGHT WORKERS ARE REFUSED REINSTATEMENT

Fourteen Cases Clear By Re-Classification

By GEORGE COVERDALE

Eight Orange county WPA workers, filing complaints during the recent works project flareup here, will not be reinstated unless they can obtain certification through the SRA. This was announced today by Robert Stevens of the Los Angeles adjustment and complaint office, who yesterday afternoon concluded a series of 30 interviews with disgruntled workers.

Ben Sconce, one of the principal complainants, who resigned his position in the timekeeping department when his pay was reduced to a security wage, was offered reinstatement. Stevens said after a thorough investigation of his case, it was found the man had been improperly handled. He was re-offered a $105 time-keeping position, said by officials to have been the wage he was receiving before the last pay cut.

HE WILL CONTINUE

Since he went off the relief program Sconce told the employment division he had secured work under private employment at a job he had been seeking some time. He will continue working with the privately run enterprise, instead.

Fourteen persons finding fault with the WPA administration were cases that were cleared up through reclassification.

One woman asked for a transfer from Santa Ana to Long Beach. This matter is out of the jurisdiction of the WPA, as it involves moving from one county into another.

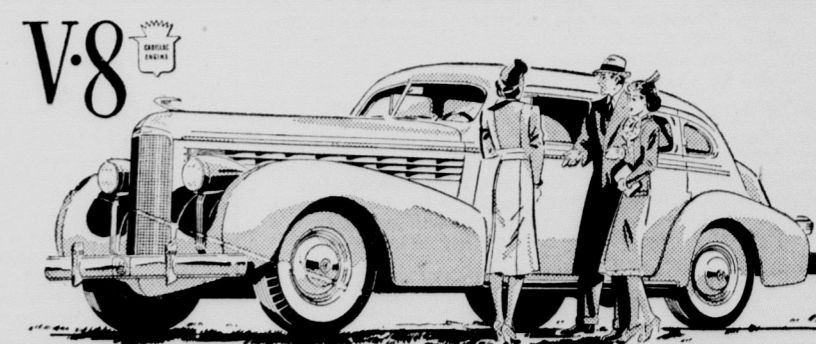

Another person registered a complaint against a foreman. Still another refused to accept private employment when offered, and for this reason he was not placed back on WPA rolls.

CERTIFICATION NECESSARY
Four others, classed as miscellaneous cases, had to do principally with men who were accidentally demoted while being transferred from one job to another. Their complaints are being corrected at once, Stevens related.

The WPA will receive relief employes only after they have been certified through the State Relief administration. In the cases of the eight who were denied certification or re-certification, Stevens reported, they apparently did not come up to the requirement set by the SRA for one reason or another.

Stevens pointed out the local WPA headquarters has an adjustment and complaint office operating here each working day, and urges all employes who find conditions unsatisfactory to feel free to call upon it for assistance. Mrs. Josephine Hearle and a staff of competent workers are on duty there to take care of such matters, he said.

Transatlantic telephone calls between Canada and countries in Europe and Africa averaged about seven a day during 1937, increasing 70 per cent over 1936.

Reciprocity Tea Held At Club

Present for a lovely afternoon of sociability and a delightful program given on reciprocity day by the Santa Ana Woman's club yesterday afternoon at Veterans hall, was a goodly delegation of club notables from all parts of Orange county. Most honored guests of honor were Mrs. Albert Launer of Fullerton, state federation vice president, and Mrs. R. G. Miller, Orange county federation president.

Numerous club presidents from over the county, other local club officers and their guests were introduced following a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. R. A. McMahon, smartly dressed in brown with matching spring chapeau and tan jacket. The hall was gay with bright bouquets of spring flowers on the stage and tables.

Mrs. E. G. Maier and her hospitable committee were more than diligent in finding hostesses for the individual delegations coming from other clubs and in cheerily greeting everyone at the door and ushering them to the friendly fireplace in the lobby where burning logs crackled. Short committee reports were given during the brief business meeting preceding the program of the afternoon, presented by the Visel studios.

Four delegates were elected to attend the Orange county convention April 29, Miss Linda Kroeker, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. William Kuhn, and Miss Blanche Seely, with the Mesdames J. E. Braden, E. O. Ahern, E. C. Wilson, and C. R. Walter as alternates.

The Visel ensemble entered the stage dressed in long puffed sleeve taffeta gowns ranging in colors from deep purple through magenta to pure blue, with Ruth Armstrong, director-accompanist, at the piano in green taffeta. Four groups of numbers were beautifully sung by the chorus of blended voices composed of the Misses Lois Newbold, Margaret Davies, Ruth Townsend, Marjorie Tubach, Marjorie Ball, Audrey Hancock, Ann Wetherell, Betty Jane Ward and Mrs. Holly Visel.

Louise Buell gave two dances, the first a graceful Spanish dance executed in a black taffeta gown with splashing red sash, red flowers in her hair, and castanets. Second dance was extremely modern, done in short costume of light blue worn with a silver helmet. Amy Buell played accompaniments at the piano for the dance numbers done by Miss Buell.

Margaret Davies sang two lovely soprano solos, her clear, bell-like voice floating over the audience. Ann Wetherell, who has a pretty coloratura voice sang two solos which demonstrated the range and dramatic of her voice.

A dramatic reading entitled "For Distinguished Service" was done in a finished and clever manner by talented Betty Jane Moore, who played the parts of a foolish young matron; her friend, who was about to win her away from her, and the friend's maid.

The refreshment table was laden with dainties and tea, with a centerpiece of Easter eggs with a yellow and pink bunny seated guarding them. A lace spread was on the table, and candles and silver service made it most attractive. Mrs. David Ball and Mrs. R. D. Cole, poured, in addition to assisting tea chairman Mrs. L. E. Tarbox, and her helpers, the Mesdames E. M. Waycott, C. F. DeLoe, Parrie Sallier and Miss Blanche Seely.

'The Fifty'
By DONALD BUTTON

(Editor's Note: This week Mr. Button launches a new column to take the place of his "It's This Way" each Tuesday. In it, each week, he will present a thumbnail sketch of a contemporary California artist of note.)

PREFACE
To gauge the effectiveness of any work in the creative art, I have repeatedly stated, one must know what it is that he, the artist, is trying to convey.

To understand a painter, a sculptor, or a dancer, say, one needs to know his, or her, background well enough that the statement, regardless of medium, is justified by that background.

It is, I think, a rational approach. Too, having tried a list of "100 California artists whom you should know" on enough people to get practically a negative response, I then realized that people in the Arts had not been sufficiently introduced to their public.

As a consequence, I have chosen the 50 California artists in the creative arts whom I think really have "something to say."

I would emphasize that this is a personal selection. The 50 so chosen are not all painters. Some are architects, some sculptors, some dancers.

A number of them have national reputations. Several teach. Most of them are comparatively young.

That you may distinguish between them, they are presented individually, much as though you were meeting them at a mutual friend's house.

I should like you to know something of each one's preparation, what each has accomplished, what the gallery connections of each are.

In short, may I present "The Fifty"?

No. 1—MILLARD SHEETS, will follow in The Journal next week. Watch for it!

SECTION FRIDAY
Members of Ebel's Third House, hold economics section will meet at the clubhouse Friday afternoon for their usual luncheon and a discussion of casserole dishes. Co-hostesses for the day are Mrs. F. T. Preble, Mrs. W. L. Leiby, and Mrs. E. T. Battey.

T-I-D-B-T-S...

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

Ten-year-old Barbara Thomas is a scarlet fever patient and Mrs. Gene Thomas (Irene) is quarantined with her. Gene is camping in the clubhouse, the calls it his doghouse! with his only consolation, his drawing board and the radio.

Little sister Shirley is staying with Mrs. Jack Willey and as the Willeys have no children she is a much pampered little visitor. The patient has a mild case of the fever, so everything is bearable.

The women of the American Legion auxiliary performed a near miracle Friday night when they fed 340 people at their banquet for the state command. The patient has a mild case of the fever, so everything is bearable.

Maude Wiley is treasuring a piece of antique taken with a Mexican caballero, wearing a black velvet suit with much silver braid. It was taken in Mexico City, and is a pretty memento of her trip.

Saw Sue Slaughter this week looking very stunning in an all-black gown with the only touch of color a bright green kerchief in the breast pocket secured by a beautiful rhinestone and green clip to the pocket. She is a brunet with lovely dark hair, and a most tasteful good sense to wear her hair in the severe bob that is so very becoming to her.

Mrs. Gene Robinson planned a long distance birthday party to celebrate the natal day of her 80-year-old mother, Mrs. Louis Annheim in Toledo, Ohio.

It was a surprise planned with the cooperation of Mrs. Robinson's chum in Toledo. All the mother's friends were invited, and a box was sent from Santa Ana containing the birthday cake, cookies, napkins, nutcrackers, candles, and even favors, packets of gorgeous giant-flowered morning-glory seed from the Robinson garden.

The birthday was on March eighth—the good day. News of traffic delays hurried Mrs. Robinson to wire her brother and friends to furnish the makings for a birthday party and they saved the day even though the Santa Ana box was 24 hours late!

Dainty young Lucille Lambert was shown to my table in a cafe and I thought "What a sweet little lady!" when I saw her coming. She had very pretty, courteous manners, too.

In a downtown shop hangs a bedspread of white muslin blocks, every other one etched in red. Eloise De Lano Green

TWO PLAYS TO BE GIVEN AT FRANKLIN

Excitement runs high in Franklin school district this week as the pupils and parents are winding up preparations for presentation of two dramatic offerings Thursday and Friday at the school at 7:15 p. m.

Under the direction of Miss E. Arnold, who wrote the play, the students will present "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," with Mildred Cochran as Snow White, Mabel Fleming as the wicked queen, Wallace Dominguez as Prince Charming, Doris Durbin as the magic mirror, Leroy Stackley as the huntsman, Marjorie Ruffell as Mabel Irving Larker as Grumpy, Jerry Munson as Doc, Billy Clayton as Sleepy, Robert Bernstein as Sleepy, Elwayne Everett as Happy, Calvin Rich as Bashful, and David Haskill as Dopey.

Mrs. Jack Munson is arranging costumes Mrs. E. H. Luhnman is the superintending publicity and tickets, and Clyde Garver and Frank Purington are the stage crew.

In conjunction with the youngsters' presentation will be a comedy entitled "Marriage Difficulties," played by P. J. A. mothers, and also directed by Miss Arnold.

Taking part in this will be Mrs. Luhnman, Mrs. G. E. Bogart, Mrs. C. G. Crossley, Mrs. A. Meyer, Mrs. Martha Starkey, Mrs. Frank Ashby, and Mrs. N. E. Wilson.

Between acts Friday the Blue Note accordion band will play, and a candy sale will be held.

HALF CENTURY MILESTONE IS PASSED

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Metz of 710 Winter street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, when they were entertained for dinner at Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hand's home in Long Beach. Mrs. Hand is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Metz.

Members of the immediate family only were present, including Miss Marian Shaw of Los Angeles, a niece of Mrs. Metz, who attended the wedding 50 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Metz have lived in Santa Ana for 11 years, and in California 31 years, coming here from Baldwin, Kan.

BILL BRADSHAW HAS PARTY

Bill Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roch Bradshaw, entertained five of his young friends at his home at 1147 South Parton street Saturday afternoon for a birthday luncheon, after which the boys attended a show.

Guests who assisted Bill in celebrating his birthday anniversary and enjoying his birthday cake were James Starr, Jack Rutledge, Robert Connel, Bud Brando and Alwyn Winters. Bill's birthday anniversary was yesterday, but he celebrated on Saturday as there was no school to interfere then.

Kuhne) pierced it when seven years old, her mother designed the designs that she was required to do one of each day. She finished it on her seventh birthday anniversary, and received a reward of a silver thimble and a doll buggy. Every little girl who sees it wants to make one, and Mrs. Kuhne has promised to draw designs for them all.

Saw H. R. Newlands and the little three-year-old daughter Anita having lunch together. She was a brown-eyed darling, dressed sensibly in blue flannel slacks and a bright red sweater.

Daddy sells sewing machines all over the county, and Anita loves to ride with him, sometimes taking her favorite doll, Diane.

Women I saw this week who were particularly becoming outfits: Mrs. William Diers in a daffodil yellow swaggar coat and hat—Dorothy Beckman Dixon in a lovely coral-hued coat and little black velvet hat. Mrs. W. H. Wyckoff wearing black with a soft wide beige giraffe and a most unique and lovely bunch of beige toadstools of velvet at the neckline.

Have you noticed the many distinguished-looking daughters in Santa Ana who are living with equally lovely mothers? There's Martha Whitson, who gets handsomer every day, and her dear old mother. There's stately Mrs. William Smart and Mary, who keeps the home fires burning, and there's charming Mabel McFadden and her lovely mother, Mrs. John McFadden—Mabel with a deep interest in Y.W.C.A. work. And countless others who should be acclaimed with honor.

That clever short-story writer, Freda Rowland, came in to see me one day lately. She had just come from a news-stand where she purchased a copy of the magazine which bought and printed her first story with a substantial check coming to her. They told her at the news-stand they had to re-order the magazine twice because a Santa Ana writer was represented in it. It naturally gave her a thrill.

She is a very stunning petite brunet with an artistic flair for dress.

Mrs. Leslie Irving from London, England, has been the guest of relatives in Santa Ana. She came to see her first baby born in the old Thomas home, at present the home of her cousin, Mrs. Clyde Deardoff.

Mrs. Irving manufactures parachutes for airplanes in England, and the Irving family, including Charles Lindbergh on their trip by air around the world.

DELEGATE IS HONOREE AT PARTIES

A full week-end was experienced by Miss Rosalie Fitzpatrick who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gahab of Santa Ana. On Friday she drove into Los Angeles, and Saturday morning was Santa Ana's delegate amid 1000 other young people to a Catholic Youth's convention.

The affair was of brief duration, featuring a special mass and sermon by the Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, and a breakfast later.

The following day was Miss Fitzpatrick's birthday anniversary. Her mother, Mrs. Rose Ann Fitzpatrick, entertained at a dinner in her Los Angeles home for her.

Present were Miss Mary Josephine Fitzpatrick, Miss Eileen Fitzpatrick, Jack and Jimmie Fitzpatrick, Peggy Bailey and Nora McDonald. When festivities were nearly over, the celebrant was completely surprised by the appearance of another group of friends, who stayed through the evening for a surprise party.

Among the additional guests were Eleanor Long, Ruth Maden, Michael McDonald, Jack O'Malley, Pat O'Malley, Clarence Bratt, Andy Monahan and George Andre.

FLOWERS AND PERFUMES WILL BE BLENDED

When you see a calla lily, what is the perfume you'd think of to go with it? Or what about an iris? Or maidenhair fern?

That is the question that Rankin's store plans to answer for every woman in Santa Ana. This day, by means of whole-hearted cooperation with local florists.

On Thursday the windows of Rankin's on Fourth and Sycamore streets will be unveiled as floral paradises. Five florists, Macre's, The Bouquet Shop, Flowerland, The Mission Florists, and Hail's, will each arrange a spectacular exhibit, and to go with each one Mrs. Mary Thompson of Rankin's will place particular perfumes on display.

Smart women are eagerly awaiting the novel idea, which promises to be both aesthetic and practical.

CHENOWETHS ENTERTAIN DINNER CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth were host and hostess to their dinner club last evening, taking the group of friends to the Knott Berry Farm for dinner.

Later they all returned to the Chenoweth home at 2511 North Park boulevard for an evening of contract.

Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carden, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Emory D. White, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Mortimer Plum as special guest substitutes.

Hostess Trio Fetes Miss Roberts

The first of what promise to be numerous lovely parties for Miss Prudence Roberts, niece of Mrs. James Irvine with whom she makes her home and who recently announced her engagement to Lieut. Jack Barton, was that given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, and Mrs. R. C. Hoiles.

The spacious Hoiles home on Victoria drive lent itself beautifully to such a large affair, and was effectively decorated with spring flowers of every description. Fifty guests were hidden.

White, however, was the only color used in the artistic arrangements, with tiny pottery bowls on small luncheon tables, and a long green bowl arranged by Mrs. Davis. A bouquet of exquisite pink roses was brought by Mrs. Perry Lewis.

The Easter motif was evident in the dessert course of refreshments in the shape of chicks and bunnies. Contract was played during the afternoon with Mrs. Charles Boyer winning prize for high score, Mrs. J. E. Paul, second prize, and Mrs. E. B. Sprague, third prize.

When Miss Roberts arrived she was presented with a dainty old-fashioned looking clock she carried during the afternoon. Her hostesses had been sent similar little nosegays by her, and each wore hers tied to her wrist.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's contract three high-score prizes were awarded, the hostesses of the hostesses, Mrs. H. T. Dunning selected a low white pottery bowl as her award, Mrs. E. D. White chose a tall white vase, and Mrs. I. F. Landis was awarded white pottery bookends. At the time they were opened, the hostesses presented each of their four assistants with dainty handkerchiefs.

Highlight of the afternoon was presentation of shower gifts to Miss Roberts, for all were dainty old-fashioned looking clock she carried during the afternoon. Her hostesses had been sent similar little nosegays by her, and each wore hers tied to her wrist.

The three charming hostesses were assisted in their duties by a quartet of younger matrons and misses. Mrs. C. H. Hoiles, daughter-in-law of Mrs. R. C. Hoiles, Mrs. Lyman Farwell, daughter of Mrs. Haddon, and Miss Marian Crickshank, bride-elect of Johnston Haddon, son of Mrs. Haddon, together with Miss Betty Timmons.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS AT HAUPTERT HOME

Miss Jerry Hauptert was hostess to her contract club on Monday evening in her home at 821 Garfield street. After the evening of cards prizes were awarded to Miss Estelle Schlesinger and Miss Irene Ravenkamp.

The hostess used lovely roses to decorate the small tables at which she served a salad course late in the evening. Three of the members were absent, and guest substitutes were Mrs. E. L. McKamy, Mrs. S. Krager, and Miss Elizabeth Meyer.

Members of the club present were Miss Irene Ravenkamp, Miss Estelle Schlesinger, Mrs. Lawrence Hauptert, Mrs. Walter Markel, Mrs. Bert Banks, Mrs. Burley Durbin, Miss Bernice Borchard, and the hostess.

2. What happens to snakes living in cold climates in winter?
3. The native home of the tomato?
4. Whether the oil coming from oil wells was formed by plants or animals?

Answers
1. The stickleback. — usually in the ground.
2. The Americans. The name comes from the Aztec tomatl.
3. Some pools are vegetable but most are animal. The latter largely from marine animals.
4. Safety for Hikers

With spring days making hiking parties more alluring, Santa Ana Girl Scouts are advised to follow these rules: To cross streets at crossings only; look both ways before crossing; obey traffic officers or signals; be careful of cars that may come around corners, and to walk, and not run, across streets. They are warned not to dodge back and forth if they get caught in the middle. The group drove down moving, but to stand perfectly still until it is safe to proceed.

Brownies Trip
Brownie Pack III named a trip by automobile to Corona Del Mar to see the set for Spaw of the North. The group drove down after school Thursday, March 24. Brownies making the trip were: Marian Bulok, Barbara Bradshaw, Mary Ann Bradshaw, Marjorie Ann Fletcher, Mary Jane Huffman, Mary Logan, Joyce Lusk, Rena Steinberger, Patricia Davey, Nancy Smith, Sheron Spencer, Lois Jean Lusk, Betty Sheedy, and Marjorie Underwood. A treat was purchased at Corona Del Mar. Mrs. George Lusk, Mrs. Roch Bradshaw and Mrs. R. E. Steinberger furnished the transportation. Nancy Steinberger accompanied the group.

Please make your reservation at the Girl Scout office for only a limited number can be in the class at one time. The requirements for the Sewing merit badges will be covered.

COLLEGIANS VISIT HUNTINGTON

Numerous wonders of the Huntington library were seen yesterday afternoon when members of Alpha Rho Tau, Santa Ana Junior college Art club, motored to Pasadena and later dined at the "Little Plaza Tea Room."

Leaving the library at closing time the group drove around Pasadena and then enjoyed dinner.

Those who took the excursion included Miss Marian Baxter, president; Miss Ida Marie Holland, Miss Jean May, Miss Evelyn Witt, Miss Dorothy Jenkins, Miss Betty Neff, Miss Ruth Switzer, club advisor.

Floral Motif Is Lovely At Party

The J. E. Gowen home at 928 Spurgeon street was beautifully decorated with all the gorgeous flowers of spring Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Gowen, groomed in figured print, with Mrs. W. Maxwell Burke, in black brocade velvet, and Mrs. S. M. Davis, in black moire taffeta, united in hostess duties to entertain at a charming luncheon. Mrs. John Wehrly and Mrs. Wilfred Dow graciously assisted the hostess trio.

The card tables, laid with lovely linens, were centered with tiny pots of growing primulas. One of the loveliest bouquets in the home was a combination of trans-vaal daisies in rose and pale pink with columbines and ferns in a long green bowl arranged by Mrs. Davis. A bouquet of exquisite pink roses was brought by Mrs. Perry Lewis.

The Easter motif was evident in the dessert course of refreshments in the shape of chicks and bunnies. Contract was played during the afternoon with Mrs. Charles Boyer winning prize for high score, Mrs. J. E. Paul, second prize, and Mrs. E. B. Sprague, third prize.

WIVES ENJOY CARD PARTY AT TEMPLE

When Silver Cord lodge members convened for their regular session last night their wives enjoyed a social time in the card room of Masonic temple, with Mrs. Walter Schmidt and Mrs. Don C. Edwards officiating as hostesses.

At contract high score prizes went to Mrs. Herbert Allemen, Mrs. G. M. Wooley, and Mrs. John J. Vernon, while low went to Mrs. Mary Torrez. Auction prizes were won by Mrs. Ernest M. Henry and Mrs. Donald P. Hildreth.

Late in the evening the ladies were joined by their husbands and all proceeded to the banquet room for refreshments. Long tables had been beautifully decorated with oblong arrangements of pastel blossoms by Mrs. R. E. McBurney.

Refreshments were arranged by a committee of husbands, numbering 10. E. McBurney, Elmer Rains, Ted Blanding, Russell Crouse, John Dohmer, Shannon Eller, Harry Fink, Ralph Graves, Osburn Holmes, Ora Jennings, Nels Nelson and Frank Wharton. Enjoyable at this time was an impromptu program put on by Ray Taylor.

CIVITANS ARE HOSTS AT DINNER PARTY

Civitan service club was host at a guest-night dinner party yesterday at Knott's Berry Farm, seating over 100 persons in a private dining-room there.

Members of the Long Beach chapter with their wives swelled the Santa Ana guest crowd, and an enjoyable informal program was put on with Marjorie Nelson as program chairman. Piano accompaniment solos and duets were played by young Rodney Brown and Donald Nelson, and several numbers were played by Bill Gary's swing band.

Particularly honored as a guest was Lee Pryor of Pasadena, international president of Civitan. He was accompanied by Mrs. Pryor and by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips. Phillips is district governor of the organization. Both were introduced by Donald Harwood, a past local president who presided as master of ceremonies after Dean Campbell, active president, had welcomed the crowd.

Of serious interest was the brief talk made by Harrison White of Santa Ana, Scout leader and member of the Rotary club, who outlined the work Civitan club here is doing on behalf of underprivileged boys. Concluding event on the program was an extremely interesting movie showing in detail every step of the construction of Boulder Dam.

FAMILY FETES PEGGY JOHNSON

Miss Lida M. Parke of Riverside has been the guest of her daughter's family, the Ethelbert Johnsons, for several days.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Buddy Johnson, and Mrs. Parke, drove to the Flintridge Sacred Heart academy where they picked up Helen and Peggy Johnson and took the entire group to dinner in Pasadena, in celebration of Peggy's sixteenth birthday anniversary.

RULEYS HAVE HOUSEGUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Ruley of 910 North Flower street enjoyed a pleasant week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fast over the week-end.

The visitors were formerly of Fairmont, West Va., but more recently are from Lexington, Ky. They have wintered frequently in Florida, but this is their first California trip, and they are enthusiastic about the western Southland.

Miss Irene Krisher, Miss Margie Lee Brown, Upton Pett, Fred Titenor, Bob Bradley, Lester Bowman, Joe Kobayashi, Kenneth Kingrey, Douglas Simmons, Miss Lucile Jensen and Miss Frances Egge, club advisor.

Mary Stoddard Origin of Word 'News' Is Topic of Interest To Young Reader

It's so nice to hear from the younger members of my families of readers, and to answer their queries about this and that factual material. The origin of the word "news" is a much discussed topic, and there are several theories, the commonest and most plausible which I have given here in my answer.

MARY HAMPTON'S Column

THE EASTER PARADE

Edward Stevenson believes that the woman is first and the clothes should be to glorify her. Too often, he said, designers become so entranced with new ideas that they completely overlook whether the design is suitable for the person or figure of the woman. He doesn't concern himself as completely with new trends as with the business of creating costumes which really do something for the actress who wears them. And just because you did not read yesterday's column—Edward Stevenson is head designer out at the R. K. O. studios.

He spoke about those occasions when a shortage of time makes it necessary for them to buy clothes in retail stores. "Sales women will perpetually tell you how this or that is the very latest fashion," he said, "and I always have to explain that there is much more to attractiveness than newness. If the lines and color and design are not exactly suited to the woman's figure, then no matter how 'last-minute' they may be, they're wrong for her." We agreed that it was a pity more women did not dress for this individual suitability and becomingness rather than random fashions.

In preparing for a big picture he goes deeply into all things costume. The costumes are specially designed for the individual actress, a whole series of test pictures are made from very angle to catch those angles which the camera reveals. Sometimes a neckline must be changed by a mere inch or so, and it does happen on rare occasions that a whole costume cannot be used. But to prevent this they test fabrics with photographs before making up now. Mr. Stevenson told me about one particular scene which was a stunning success in one studio—but when photographed was a dreadful flop!

Colors, too, he emphatically thinks should be related to the woman who wears them. He is highly aware of the beautiful colors which California inspires—but he refuses to use blacks and navies on figures which are a bit unmanageable and need slenderizing. And most interestingly, he pointed out how small accents, such as sophisticated wear in daily life with such dark costumes, as neckties he refers to as "dark costumes have to have something with a splash about it such as fur or great jewels to look effective. Otherwise, in filming, the subtleties are lost and the costume looks just flat."

He had to laugh when he talked about technical. He was telling about the earliest pictures, and said that they were nothing short of the despair of costume designers. For the producers were unmanageable in their joy! Having color at last, they wore anything but color, regardless of what a part called for. They would not hear of black or anything dark. He laughed in recalling it. "Now," he added, "they are beginning to realize that too much color all over the place deafts its own end. It will be fun to see the picture, when it is released, having had a personal preview of turquoise negligees and black wool coats trimmed in leopard with gloves to match—all in the studio wardrobe rooms!"

MRS. HALL ON TRIP EAST
Mrs. George Hall of 1617 Spurgeon street will leave Santa Ana Friday for a trip east, stopping first in El Paso, Texas, to visit a daughter, then proceeding to Wichita, Kan., her former home.

She will visit a brother she has not seen for many years in Chicago, before going on to New York for an indefinite visit at the home of Frank Hall, her son. She will return to the West coast via Washington, D. C., and Phoenix.

DEARDORFFS ARE HOME FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Deardoff have returned from a very interesting northern trip last night, when they arrived at their home, 713 1/2 South Sycamore street with two tables present. A supper was served after the evening of bridge at the small tables covered with gay Easter spreads.

Bouquets of mixed sweet peas in pastel shades were on the table. The guests present for the pleasant evening were the Messrs. and Mesdames Tevis Westgate, Joel Egle, Hume West and Richard Ewert.

CLUB MEETS AT EWERT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ewert were host and hostess to members of their bridge club last night at their home, 713 1/2 South Sycamore street with two tables present. A supper was served after the evening of bridge at the small tables covered with gay Easter spreads.

Bouquets of mixed sweet peas in pastel shades were on the table. The guests present for the pleasant evening were the Messrs. and Mesdames Tevis Westgate, Joel Egle, Hume West and Richard Ewert.

NEW COMEDY TEAM AT W.C.

Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce form a new and intriguing light comedy team in "The First Hundred Years," which opens today at the West Coast theatre with the drama, "Of Human Hearts."

Warren William, in the familiar and popular debonair role he has made famous, plays the part of Miss Bruce's partner in a New York theatrical season in "The York Film Agency. Also featured in the supporting cast are Binnie Barnes, Alan Dinehart, Harry Davenport and others.

"Of Human Hearts" is hailed as a new masterpiece of the most dramatic stories of mother love ever written. The picture features the illustrious actor, Walter Huston, supported by James Stewart and Beulah Bondi. The locale is a small town in Ohio before the Civil war.

Selected short subjects on the program include an Our Gang comedy, "Canned Fish," and World News events.

THE $400 GOLD MINE...

Jim Treadwell was one man who knew a bargain when he saw one. A carpenter by trade, Jim never turned down a chance to invest a little money on the side, if the prospects looked good.

It so happened that Pierre "French Pete" Erussard, a well-known prospector in the Alaskan territory, happened along at the time with the right prospects for Treadwell. Erussard had a gold mine he had filed a claim on, and showed several nuggets that glittered brightly.

Erussard needed money, and Jim Treadwell had it. But all French Pete got of it was $400—Jim got the mine. Strange as it seems, Carpenter Jim struck one of the greatest bargains of history by this deal. His $400 bought the now famous "Treadwell Mine of Alaska" which, since its odd purchase in the late 1870's, has produced $75,000,000.

PECULIAR PEOPLE...

"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people."—I Peter ii, 9.

Strange as it seems, from this passage in the Bible a religious sect in England selected its name, "Peculiar People." The faith was founded in 1838 by John Banyard, a Londoner.

Japan Votes Two Billions

Of the world's three largest and most aggressive Fascist dictatorships it now looks as if Japan, the one which seemingly was enjoying the greatest measure of success in the way of conquest, will be the one first to find itself in very serious trouble. In fact, that its very successes are leading it unerringly along the road to ruin.

We called attention a few days ago to the passage, after stormy debates in the imperial diet, of Japan's national mobilization act, a measure which centers complete power in the war lords, which places all the resources of the country in the hands of the military clique for military purposes.

Now the parliament has adjourned after passing a total of 76 government measures, the final ones being budget bills. The regular budget totals 833 million dollars, of which more than half goes to army and navy. Then, on top of this, a special budget of one billion, 392 million dollars for the prosecution of the war in China. Or, a total of nearly two billions for conquest!

Taxes, already high, of course now will soar to vastly higher levels. Simultaneously, the business from which the taxes must come is throttled and hamstrung.

The strictest of limitations have been placed on foreign exchange transactions of every sort; the exporting of money is sternly forbidden.

Increasing numbers of the nation's merchant ships are commandeered to prosecute the war. The nation's credit shrinks. Many of its major industries, including the power utilities, are simply taken over by the military.

Mearwhile, from a 400-mile front in central China the news comes of Chinese victories, large and small, of repeated Japanese repulses. Are the Napoleons of the Orient now in front of Moscow?

College professor says "ain't" and "thing" are the two most overworked words in America. Well, anyway they ain't "Heil" and "Hitler."

Gadgets and Whatnots

One of the innumerable confidential weekly "behind the scenes" business letters with which the country is being flooded contains the following list of "Things to Watch for":

"A new motor car by Ford, smaller and cheaper than any one on the market today, with a welded tubular steel frame . . . A tiny electric shaver for women to be introduced by Schick . . . Corn on the cob individually wrapped in a new parchment paper . . . Cosmetics for mechanics and factory workers to protect faces from heat and dust . . . A new safety belt to keep the children securely fastened in the back seat of the automobile . . . An electric toothbrush made by the Motodent company . . . Decks of cards with five suits for poker players . . . A device to cook food by radio waves . . . Tests by Westinghouse show that a 14-pound ham which normally takes four hours to cook can be done in a turn in 20 minutes when cooked by radio waves . . . Higher prices for knitted dresses if the demand for wool and worsted yarns increases."

All wars are rather quiet, save the senate fight over the armament bill.

A Cheerful Tendency

Uncle Sam is still plunging into debt—but not nearly so fast as in recent years.

It should be uplifting to the national spirit to study the figures of nine months of the fiscal year, which ends June 30. When Uncle Sam closes his books that day he'll be $700,000,000 deeper in debt. This is a tremendous slash from the similar period in 1937, when the deficit was more than twice as much—$1,713,000,000, to be exact.

This year's deficit is the lowest in seven years, and is a long step back toward sound government on a sound financial structure.

If congress will continue this tendency so that the government gets out of the red and back into the black ink in its ledgers, it will do more to bring about genuine recovery than any half-dozen schemes put forward by self-styled economists and business experts.

Mr. Cardenas probably seized all that oil because he has so many troubled waters to pour it on.

A Happy Old Age

They've got a new sort of club in Vancouver, B. C. It's an old age club, but it has nothing to do with economic problems. The idea is for oldsters to figure out among themselves just how to remain happy, and keep on with a healthy life.

The program seeks to find diets suitable for the aged, constructive and pleasant use of leisure, sane exercises, and tries to promote an interest in current events and life in general.

If this club can achieve its object, it will go a long way toward promoting the happy old age that everyone deserves.

Now for a good old case of sunburn.

It Sounds Familiar

"We will fight, if necessary, to maintain peace," says Premier Leon Blum of France.

A statement that contradicts itself, because to fight is to destroy peace.

Perhaps Blum has been reading a little past history. It was from 1914 to 1918 that millions of men fought and died for an almost identical slogan—"The War to End War."

Just as that war failed to achieve that result, any future war will be no step toward lasting peace.

Fair Enough

Days of Bomb Wars Upon Us

By Westbrook Pegler

I would like to hope that the next war can be prevented by collective security or by some miraculous appeal to the better nature of Adolf Hitler, but everything is against such belief.

The Germans are bulging with arrogance, and either the British or the French, though they have been backed around the schoolyard several times, by their great humiliation, eventually will get their gumption up and let one fly. It is considered jingoistic to speak of the German arrogance, but, after all, it is one of the most aggravating factors in these days of pre-war bickering, just as it was in the years leading up to 1914, and it cannot be ignored out of existence. Nations, like individuals, hate one another as much for traits which they find offensive as for definite intentions.

It may be indicative, too, to say that the British and French have been taking insults and ignoring digs in the ribs only because they were short of confidence. But their joint meekness, which passes for peace-loving patience, and the military shortwindedness of the British, are no mere coincidences. Who ever heard of the British or French taking such lip from anybody as they have taken from Mussolini and Hitler these last few years?

SOLDIERS' WAR OVER

The days of the soldiers' war are over. Now it is war against women and children by bomb and starvation and the dictators both have relied on the fear of the British and French that they wouldn't be able to protect their own. Give the British a little more time though, and they will fight. They may be ready to chance it now.

Collective security would have to include Russia, and it would have to be backed by collective military might. Otherwise, what would prevent Hitler and Mussolini from walking out and taking anything which the collective nations refused to sell them and taking their country, or as much territory as they would deem necessary to protect themselves from future acts of economic "aggression"?

The Communists call Russia a democracy just as Hitler says he "rescued" Austria. Let us get "into the Collaborator" with Russia would be all right if it would prevent this war.

But what have the Communists got to offer? They speak of Russia as though it were an established and accepted fact that the Soviets are united and strong, and eager to make a deal with us for the peace of the world. In this matter they pretend to speak with authority for Russia as though every member of the Democratic party would pretend to speak for the United States. But let us turn to domestic political matters, when you accuse a Communist of representing Russia he says, "Who, me? I was born in Muskegon, Mich., and I am as American as any man."

WHAT ABOUT RUSSIA?

But what has the Russian government got to say? I have been listening and I have heard nothing from Moscow but news of a character which throws serious doubt on the Soviet's ability to win a street fight, much less a war. Generals, diplomats, bureaucrats and army and navy leaders of the secret police have confessed to conspiring against their own country, and if you accept the Communists' own contention that these confessions were true then you also have to conclude that the Russian government must be rotten to the marrow and an unreliable partner in any undertaking as dangerous as a boycott with war as a probable consequence.

If the Russian government isn't tongue-tied, it might talk up the proposition and let us see what we think of the chances of preventing this war by economic quarantine. It is my belief, though, that, owing to this mysteriousness and the cunning treachery of the Soviets toward this country in the past, the Americans would reject them and tread the road to war again, with Italy and Japan, the gallant allies of the war for democracy, fighting on the other side this time. I am afraid that Hitler's outrageous cruelty and defiance of knowledge, truth and everything that Americans hold to be the fundamentals of decency will make this war an easy one to sell us, but one that we never will cease to pay for.

Now YOU ASK ME

MARCH 30, 1913

The Democratic county central committee today nominated Charles D. Overshiner for postmaster of Santa Ana at a policy meeting called by Chairman Horace C. Head. The committee passed a resolution asking that congress adopt a "hands off" policy in regard to the controversial sugar tariff.

WASHINGTON.—Siege is to be led to the White House by the suffragists, it was announced at national headquarters today as a result of the declaration of President Wilson to include in his message to congress some reference to the suffrage cause.

Secretary J. C. Metzgar of the associated chambers of commerce today sent a check for $1000 to the national Red Cross headquarters at Washington for flood relief work in the Middle West. Total subscriptions meanwhile, approached the $2000 mark in Santa Ana.

Ten visitors from Pomona arrived today to engage a Santa Ana horse-shoe team in a two-day 10-game match. The Santa Ana pitchers include W. B. Barker, R. Best, John Cochran, Guy Cunningham, Ed Covington, Joe Beckness, W. McGreevy, Al Chapman, W. Feldner and Spence Ritter.

Remarkable Remarks

If we are to live to a ripe old age, we must use with caution our ability to work all day and worry all night.—Dr. George W. Crile, Cleveland, Ohio.

The masses are becoming increasingly economically helpless through lack of vocational training.—Prof. Arthur B. Mays, University of Illinois.

Technological unemployment has displaced so many men that only through reduced hours can we ever hope to get them back to work again.—U. S. Senator George W. Norris.

The difference between the terms "recession" and "depression" is purely psychological.—Sir Josiah Stamp, British economist.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

It looks like the minute a person gets in the spot light, people start takin' shots at him and that's the reason why he should keep his record clean at home. It gives him a little sanctuary where he can get away from the crowd world that don't understand him.

I knew one actor out here whose conduct had started some terrible tales about him. One day he said to his wife, "Darling, all those things you hear about me on the street are lies. I hope you never do lie about me."

The wife says, "Well, as a matter of fact, I do tell some little white lies about you once in a while. I think it's a wife's duty to speak well of her husband occasionally." (Copyright, 1938)

DALE

Day—By—Day

Philosophy

These lines are being written on a train pulling out of Woodstock, Ontario. Most Americans never heard of Woodstock; but I shall always think of it as the birthplace of one of the most interesting and delightful men I ever knew. His name was Frank Gammond. I say "was" because he has "charmed worlds," as the Japanese say. Frank had little formal education. In fact, he never attended high school. Yet no other man I have ever known had his beautiful and precise command of words.

In 1919, I had the pleasure of crossing the Atlantic with Frank Gammond.

SIX MEN AT TABLE

There were six men at our table: the head of a famous English University, the head of one of England's best known medical colleges, a bishop, and a dominie who acted high in the council of the Church of England. Yet this man, who had never attended high school, was not only the most stimulating conversationalist at our table, but he also excelled the others in his ability to use words with clarity, accuracy and beauty. These crude professors and divines were astonished to learn that he was not a university graduate.

What was the secret of his ability to express his ideas so adroitly? I know, because I frequently discussed this matter with him. The secret was: he had an abiding love for Shakespeare. It was more than love with him; it was a veritable passion. He devoured "Hamlet," "Macbeth," and "The Merchant of Venice."

DELICIOUS GUSTO

He devoured them with delight and gusto. And to some extent, his own expressions acquired the magic of the playwright he idolized.

Do you want to increase your ability to create symphonies of sense with these romantic phrases that we call the English language? If you have a dollar, and the desire, you have the two principal ingredients. For one dollar, you can buy a volume containing every word that Shakespeare ever wrote. The rest will be up to you. (This volume is published by Walter J. Black, Inc., 2 Park Avenue, New York City.)

I have heard more than one wealthy widow lament that she didn't know what she was doing when she was interested in her money. A poor girl never has the sweetness of her love dreams embittered with such questionings. Yes, girls, there are some advantages in being poor.

WEALTH DISCOUNTED

I know several millionaires and I know many poor people; and I am positive wealth itself doesn't necessarily bring happiness. Emerson said: "Every advantage has its tax. I want to be content."

Do you know what prevents you from becoming an idiot? Just a bit of iodine that you could purchase for a nickel. In other words, if a physician opened the thyroid gland in your neck and took out five cents' worth of iodine, you would become an idiot. That isn't much to be proud of, is it? A nickel's worth of iodine? Let's remember that when we are tempted to take ourselves too seriously. (Copyright, 1938)
